Jets Pound North Rails, Steel Works

U.S. Units Kill 143 Reds In Two Lowlands Battles

SAIGON (AP) — U. S. forces reported killing 143 Communist troops in two battles in the central lowlands Wednesday while waves of U. S. jets ranged over a wide area to pound North Vietnam's rail network and its biggest iron and steel works.

American casualties in the lowlands battles 300 miles north of Saigon were six dead, 22 wounded and four missing, the U. S. Command said. It said there was light, scattered contact in 21 other U. S. and allied ground operations.

With good weather prevailing, U. S. Air Force and Navy pilots flew 133 missions against the Communist North. They hammered 11 railroad yards and rail lines from the demilitarized zone to more than 50 miles above Hanoi.

The attacks on the rail network were a continuation of a two-month-old campaign against Hanoi's rail routes. U.S. planes raided the Thai Nguyen steel works north of Hanoi for the eighth time, and a U. S. spokesman said an Air Force RF101 reconnaissance plane was shot down, the 587th U. S. combat plane reported lost over North Vietnam. The pilot was rescued.

Hanoi Radio claimed three U.S. planes were shot down Wednesday, including two pilotless reconnaissance craft.

The U. S. Command announced that 143 Americans were killed in combat last week, the lowest for any week since early February. American casualties for the week totaled 1,112 — seven less than the week before — and included 953 wounded and 16 missing.

The U. S. Command reported a big jump in Communist dead, from 1,153 the week before to 1,852. The South Vietnamese government reported 213 of its troops killed last week, 556 wounded and 14 missing, compared with 215 killed, 496 wounded and 38 missing the week before.

U. S. troops from the 3rd Brigade, 25th Infantry Division, reported they suffered no casualties in one of the ground battles Wednesday eight miles southeast of coastal Quang Ngai City.

The U. S. Command said 70 Communist troops were killed in the 90-minute fight, but only one weapon was captured. The Army said helicopter gunships firing machine guns and rockets accounted for 51 of the dead.

South of Quang Ngai, in neighboring Binh Dinh Province, a company from the 1st Cavalry Airmobile Division ran into an estimated battalion of Communist troops, perhaps 300 to 400 men, in well fortified positions.

Two other companies were rushed in while jet bombers and artillery pounded the Communist positions. The U. S. infantrymen reported 73 Communist troops killed in the day-long battle, while American casualties were six dead, 22 wounded and four missing.

In the air war, U. S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and F4 Phantoms concentrated on key railroad yards northwest and northeast of Hanoi through which military supplies are funneled from Red China to Hanoi, then sent through the southern panhandle and across or around the demilitarized zone into South Vietnam.

The aircraft carrier Intrepid, one of the last ships to pass through the Suez Canal before the Middle East war closed it, returned to the Vietnam war. Its planes attacked a rail yard 28 miles southwest of Thank Hoa.

3 Key Reasons For Special Attention

U.S. Eyes Aid To Jordan, Big Loser In Mideast War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is quietly considering what it can do to help Jordan, which appears to be the big loser in the Arab-Israeli war.

There are three key reasons for special U.S. attention to the plight of Jordan, officials explain.

—Jordan's loss of relatively more territory than Egypt or Syria, and of important sources of revenue, including income from tourism with such tourist attractions as Jerusalem and Bethlehem now in Israeli hands.

—The problem of refugees who left their homes west of the Jordan River in panic when the Israelis advanced.

—The belief that despite his participation in the war against Israel, King Hussein, Jordan's ruler, is still the best friend the United States has in the Arab world. Hussein, with Saudi Arabia's King Feisal, can again represent moderation against the leaders in Damascus and Cairo, U.S. officials hope.

Hussein, officials recalled, departed from the Arab propaganda line when he admitted at a June 19 news conference he had no proof of U.S. or British air support for the Israeli side.

Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser used charges of such air support as one excuse for the Arab defeat. The Johnson administration hopes this charge eventually will be discredited in the Arab world.

Hussein, it is believed in Washington, virtually became Nasser's prisoner when the Egyptians took control of the Gulf of Aqaba after withdrawal of the U.N. peacekeeping force. Jordan's only outlet to the sea, the Port of Aqaba, is in the Gulf and Hussein seemingly had no choice but to fall in line with Nasser.

Jordan's military hardware is believed to have been almost destroyed during the war with Israel. It consisted exclusively of British and American equipment, including about 300 modern tanks and about 50 planes.

What the United States will do to help Jordan is not clear. There is no hurry in rearming Hussein, though sources say eventually this must be done — with a proper ceiling — to prevent the Soviets from becoming exclusive arms supplier of the Arab world.

Some economic assistance, however, must come soon, officials acknowledged.

Officially, aid to Jordan is under review. Before the war broke out Jordan was expected to receive $30 million in "supporting assistance" from the United States for the next fiscal year.

A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee is reported drafting a call for review of U.S. aid policies toward Middle East countries which cut diplomatic relations with the United States during the war. Jordan did not sever relations.

In an announcement Wednesday, the State Department left Jordan as one of nine Arab countries where Americans can travel only under special restrictions.

The department lifted its June 5 restrictions on travel to Israel, Morocco, Tunisia, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait. Under the restrictions — also still imposed on travel to Algeria, Iraq, Lebanon, Libya, Sudan, Syria, United Arab Republic and Yemen — American citizens are required to obtain passports specifically endorsed by the State Department in order to travel to these countries.

Administration officials also said Wednesday they are studying what can be done to help Arabs who fled territories occupied by Israel. A report is expected next week.

The State Department said it has informed Libya it is ready to continue talks on Libya's request that the United States close down Wheelus Air Force Base.

Would Move Them Closer Home

Ohio House Vote Slated On Mental Patient Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A major bill to take the mental patient out of distant mental hospitals and put him in a friendlier environment closer to home was up for a vote today in the Ohio House.

The measure would authorize state-subsidized mental health and retardation centers which also would receive federal funds during the first five years of operation.

Martin A. Janis, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, requested the measure which he said would give Ohio a "new thrust" in treatment of the mentally ill and retarded. The bill also has backing of the Ohio Mental Health Association and other groups active in the field.

Its general purpose would be to establish local centers throughout the state. County commissioners would be given authority over mental health programs and facilities and could appropriate funds for that purpose.

The House passed five bills during a prolonged floor session Wednesday, including an emergency measure by Sen. Michael J. Maloney R-7 Cincinnati to permit counties — subject to voter approval — to adopt alternative forms of government.

Maloney said the measure was requested by Hamilton County commissioners but that it also would be available to any county desiring changes.

Representatives reconsidered and passed 64-27 a bill they defeated at a floor session earlier this week. It permits county commissioners to appropriate land in adjoining counties for airport purposes. Cleveland members sought the law to complete construction of a new Cuyahoga County airport which extends into Lake County.

The House passed and sent to the Senate measures to allow liquor permits outside the county quota system for hotels and motels of 50 rooms or more, toughen penalties for breaking into vending and other coin-operated machines, and to remove a restriction that school districts may place tax levies on ballots at only one special election year.

Across the Statehouse, the Senate voted 29-1 to permit police officers to arrest and detain persons until a warrant is obtained if they suspect the person has committed a misdemeanor.

Judge Fines Countian For Fake Holdup

LISBON — A Salem area man has been fined and given a suspended jail sentence for falsely reporting an armed robbery at his Damascus service station this week.

James Lee Koch, 26, of Salem R. D. 2 was fined $50 and costs and given a 10-day suspended jail term Wednesday by County Judge Edward Greenamyer at Salem.

Koch reported to the sheriff's department Tuesday morning a man had pulled a gun on him and had taken $460 at the Route 62 service station, forcing him into an adjacent room and tying the doorknob with a rope.

Deputy Howard Gray conducted the preliminary investigation, and he and Sheriff Russell VanFossan continued the probe. Koch later said he had not been robbed and had reported the loss of the money because he had a number of debts to be paid.

The maximum penalty on a charge of providing false information to police officers is a $1,000 fine or six months in jail, or both.

Premier's Visit Near End

LBJ, Kosygin Decision Due On 'Summit' Talk

French Aide Speech Due U.N. Today

Set To Expand On DeGaulle Statement Backing Both Sides

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — France entered the U.N. debate on the Middle East today as President Johnson and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin kept the world wondering whether they would meet during the Soviet leader's brief visit to the United States.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville's speech to the U.N. General Assembly was expected to expand on a statement by President Charles de Gaulle Wednesday which parceled out support to both sides in the Arab-Israeli dispute.

For the Arabs, De Gaulle said Israel started the war and France does not consider any Israeli territorial gains to be final. For the Israelis, he said every Middle East state, "notably Israel," has a right to live and he condemned the Arab threat to destroy the Jewish state.

U.S. and Soviet sources indicated that Johnson and Kosygin may decide today whether to meet in the brief time left before the Soviet premier's departure.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko discussed summit possibilities at a three-hour dinner meeting at Rusk's Waldorf Tower suite Wednesday night. But they left the final decision to their chiefs.

Rusk, Soviet Aide Confer Three Hours

Deal With Chance Of Conference By President, Premier

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin may decide today whether to hold a summit meeting. Kosygin's stay in the United States was drawing to a close, and Wednesday night their foreign ministers left the final decision to their two chiefs.

This became known after a three-hour dinner meeting between U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko at Rusk's suite in the Waldorf Towers, Rusk and Gromyko dealt with summit possibilities in a discussion which also ranged over the U.N. General Assembly special session on the Middle East and other unspecified items of U.S.-Soviet interest.

Gromyko told newsmen afterward that Kosygin would be returning to Moscow soon but probably not before Friday.

Since Johnson had a heavy schedule in Washington today, it appeared unlikely that even a brief Big Two parley could take place until Friday or later. Some expected Kosygin would stay in New York until the end of the week.

One possible indication of a Johnson-Kosygin meeting came Wednesday when the White House announced that Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag of Denmark would see the President in Washington today instead of Friday, as previously scheduled.

Whether the government chiefs of the two superpowers would meet at all remained very much an open question. The White House insisted Wednesday that no arrangements had been made.

The issue has become tied to questions of policy and prestige, with Kosygin against journeying from New York to Washington to call on Johnson and vice versa.

The problem of a meeting place arose soon after Kosygin arrived last Saturday to spearhead the Soviet drive for a U.N. demand that Israel withdraw from the territory it occupied in the Middle East war. Kosygin in his U.N. speech also hit at U.S. policy in the Middle East and elsewhere.

Johnson invited the Soviet leader to visit him in Washington or nearby. Kosygin said he was on a visit to the United Nations rather than to the United States as such but left the door open for Johnson to come see him.

Since the U.S. government considers the U.N. session a Kremlin maneuver to curry favor with the Arabs, Johnson was reported opposed to lending his prestige to the assembly session or making what appeared to be a pilgrimage to Kosygin.

Kosygin presumably did not want to risk Arab wrath by appearing to make a pilgrimage to Johnson or seeming too friendly with him. The Arabs charge the United States with aiding Israel in the war.

Court Orders Meeting Date For Crucible

The Illinois Supreme Court, in session at Springfield, ruled today the Circuit Court in Cook County (Chicago) should set a new date for the annual meeting of stockholders of the Crucible Steel Co.

The opinion reversed an Appellate Court decision that Illinois did not have jurisdiction over the Crucible Steel proxy battle.

In its opinion, the tribunal instructed the Circuit Court to take charge of further proceedings, including the entry of an order setting a new date for the long deferred stockholders' meeting.

House Blasts Hope Of Vote At Wellsville

A proposal to permit the Wellsville city school system to hold a special election before classes resume next fall has been defeated in the Ohio House of Representatives at Columbus.

The House Wednesday went along with a plan of State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana, that two special elections in one calendar year be permitted in school districts, approving the proposal 61-23.

But the emergency rider on the bill, to bypass the normal 90-day waiting period before legislation becomes law, failed by five votes to receive two-thirds support of the House membership.

It is only via an emergency act that Wellsville school officials would be able to follow their plan to resubmit an additional operating levy to voters in August to avoid having to retain cuts already made in extra -

Bill Goes To Senate

$22 Billion Debt Boost Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats, reversing a stunning administration setback of two weeks before, pushed through a $22-billion boost in the national debt ceiling.

Sent to the Senate on a 217-196 vote was a measure to raise the debt from a temporary $336 billion to a permanent $358 billion.

The action eased fears the Treasury might face a severe money shortage.

Failure of Congress to reset the debt limit by July 1 would see the ceiling drop to its permanent $285-billion level. The actual debt as of Wednesday was $330.57 billion.

But while the Senate still has to act on the measure — and won't start work until it has disposed of the censure resolution against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. — Democrats hold a comfortable margin in that chamber and are confident of getting speedy approval for the bill.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate Finance Committee scheduled hearings on the measure for next Monday and Tuesday. Long said he hopes it can be brought to a floor debate Wednesday.

It had been another story in the House, which stunned president Johnson's administration June 7 by defeating 210 to 197 a bill to increase the borrowing ceiling to $365 billion.

Republicans voted solidly against debt ceiling increases both times, insisting Johnson provide more information on the fiscal outlook and scale down domestic spending.

The GOP's initial victory was possible through the help of Southern Democrats and a sprinkling of Northern Democratic liberals, some of whom claimed their opposition resulted from Johnson's Vietnam war policies.

But the House leadership reclaimed 14 of these votes Wednesday, splitting the dissident Southerners about in half and picking up all but a handful of the antiwar faction.

The White House said later Johnson "congratulated the House leadership for this act of fiscal responsibility."

Dodd Certain Senate Won't Censure Him

Colleagues Refuse To Drop Charge On Financial Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd says he's confident his colleagues will reject a resolution censuring him despite overwhelming defeat of a bid to wipe out one set of charges against the Connecticut Democrat.

The Senate, in its first vote after seven days of debate, rejected 92 to 2 Wednesday a proposal for dropping charges of financial misconduct in connection with campaign and testimonial funds, and substituting an admonishment not to do anything wrong in the future.

Dodd, excused from voting at his own request, said the lopsided vote didn't discourage him.

The white - haired, two- term senator told newsmen later he has "complete confidence" in the final outcome because: "I have been guilty of no conscious wrongdoing."

Expected today are the showdown votes on the two counts in the censure resolution recommended by the Senate ethics committee following a 14-month probe of Dodd's financial affairs.

One count charges Dodd with converting $116,083 raised at political testimonials and similar events to his own use. The second accuses the senator of double-billing the Senate and private groups for travel expenses. Each is to be voted on separately.

Only Sen. Russell B. Long — author of the proposed substitute resolution — and Dodd's fellow Connecticut Democrat, Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, voted for it in the late Wednesday balloting.

Carmichael Faces Hearing

Rain Helps Wash Away Fears Of Racial Strife

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Rainshowers dampened hot, muggy weather and helped wash away fears of racial violence Wednesday night after four nights of disturbances erupted in gunfire leaving one dead and several injured.

As calm returned to the predominantly Negro Dixie Hills section, "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael faced a hearing today on charges stemming from a brief flareup over the weekend.

Carmichael, former chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, was arrested on a charge of failing to heed an officer's command to move on. He was freed on bond.

Police officials canceled all leaves and vacations in anticipation of more violence, but no trouble was reported Wednesday night.

A relaxation of Mayor Ivan Allen's curfew order keyed efforts to reduce tension.

At the urging of State Sen. Leroy Johnson and other Negro leaders, Allen reduced the curfew from 12 hours to six — from midnight to 6 a.m. He said it would not hinder persons sitting on porches for relief from the heat or going about their normal business.

In the only reported incident, a policeman found a smoking bottle filled with flammable liquid on top of a supermarket during the afternoon. It was extinguished easily.

Negro leaders and city officials worked feverishly to restore peace.

Johnson said about 1,000 persons who live in the area signed a petition aimed at showing the neighborhood did not support the violence.

Area Driver Cleared In Youth's Car Death

BEAVER — A Beaver County Court jury Wednesday acquitted Roy Bailey of Smiths Ferry R.D. 1 of two charges in connection with the traffic death of Morris Sandy Martin, 19, of Midland.

Bailey's car hit and fatally injured the youth on Route 168 in Ohioville in December. The jury yesterday issued not guilty verdicts on charges of involuntary manslaughter and driving while intoxicated filed against Bailey.

Rain In Area Proves 'Drop In The Bucket'

While some rain fell in the area this morning, it was only a smattering of that needed to help remedy problems created by the present dry spell.

And the forecast holds little hope of additional rain within the next 24 hours, although cooler weather is promised.

The prediction is for clearing and a little cooler tonight, with a low near 60, and fair and a little cooler Friday.

Summer began officially at 9:23 p.m. Wednesday.

Gromyko told newsmen afterward that Kosygin would be returning to Moscow soon but probably not before Friday.

Since Johnson had a heavy schedule in Washington today, it appeared unlikely that even a brief Big Two parley could take place until Friday or later. Some expected Kosygin would stay in New York until the end of the week.

One possible indication of a Johnson-Kosygin meeting came Wednesday when the White House announced that Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag of Denmark would see the President in Washington today instead of Friday, as previously scheduled.

Whether the government chiefs of the two superpowers would meet at all remained very much an open question. The White House insisted Wednesday that no arrangements had been made.

The issue has become tied to questions of policy and prestige, with Kosygin against journeying from New York to Washington to call on Johnson and vice versa.

The problem of a meeting place arose soon after Kosygin arrived last Saturday to spearhead the Soviet drive for a U.N. demand that Israel withdraw from the territory it occupied in the Middle East war. Kosygin in his U.N. speech also hit at U.S. policy in the Middle East and elsewhere.

Johnson invited the Soviet leader to visit him in Washington or nearby. Kosygin said he was on a visit to the United Nations rather than to the United States as such but left the door open for Johnson to come see him.

Since the U.S. government considers the U.N. session a Kremlin maneuver to curry favor with the Arabs, Johnson was reported opposed to lending his prestige to the assembly session or making what appeared to be a pilgrimage to Kosygin.

Kosygin presumably did not want to risk Arab wrath by appearing to make a pilgrimage to Johnson or seeming too friendly with him. The Arabs charge the United States with aiding Israel in the war.

Bill Goes To Senate

$22 Billion Debt Boost Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats, reversing a stunning administration setback of two weeks before, pushed through a $22-billion boost in the national debt ceiling.

Sent to the Senate on a 217-196 vote was a measure to raise the debt from a temporary $336 billion to a permanent $358 billion.

The action eased fears the Treasury might face a severe money shortage.

Failure of Congress to reset the debt limit by July 1 would see the ceiling drop to its permanent $285-billion level. The actual debt as of Wednesday was $330.57 billion.

But while the Senate still has to act on the measure — and won't start work until it has disposed of the censure resolution against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. — Democrats hold a comfortable margin in that chamber and are confident of getting speedy approval for the bill.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate Finance Committee scheduled hearings on the measure for next Monday and Tuesday. Long said he hopes it can be brought to a floor debate Wednesday.

It had been another story in the House, which stunned president Johnson's administration June 7 by defeating 210 to 197 a bill to increase the borrowing ceiling to $365 billion.

Republicans voted solidly against debt ceiling increases both times, insisting Johnson provide more information on the fiscal outlook and scale down domestic spending.

The GOP's initial victory was possible through the help of Southern Democrats and a sprinkling of Northern Democratic liberals, some of whom claimed their opposition resulted from Johnson's Vietnam war policies.

But the House leadership reclaimed 14 of these votes Wednesday, splitting the dissident Southerners about in half and picking up all but a handful of the antiwar faction.

The White House said later Johnson "congratulated the House leadership for this act of fiscal responsibility."

Carmichael Faces Hearing

Rain Helps Wash Away Fears Of Racial Strife

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Rainshowers dampened hot, muggy weather and helped wash away fears of racial violence Wednesday night after four nights of disturbances erupted in gunfire leaving one dead and several injured.

As calm returned to the predominantly Negro Dixie Hills section, "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael faced a hearing today on charges stemming from a brief flareup over the weekend.

Carmichael, former chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, was arrested on a charge of failing to heed an officer's command to move on. He was freed on bond.

Police officials canceled all leaves and vacations in anticipation of more violence, but no trouble was reported Wednesday night.

A relaxation of Mayor Ivan Allen's curfew order keyed efforts to reduce tension.

At the urging of State Sen. Leroy Johnson and other Negro leaders, Allen reduced the curfew from 12 hours to six — from midnight to 6 a.m. He said it would not hinder persons sitting on porches for relief from the heat or going about their normal business.

In the only reported incident, a policeman found a smoking bottle filled with flammable liquid on top of a supermarket during the afternoon. It was extinguished easily.

Negro leaders and city officials worked feverishly to restore peace.

Johnson said about 1,000 persons who live in the area signed a petition aimed at showing the neighborhood did not support the violence.

Dodd Certain Senate Won't Censure Him

Colleagues Refuse To Drop Charge On Financial Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd says he's confident his colleagues will reject a resolution censuring him despite overwhelming defeat of a bid to wipe out one set of charges against the Connecticut Democrat.

The Senate, in its first vote after seven days of debate, rejected 92 to 2 Wednesday a proposal for dropping charges of financial misconduct in connection with campaign and testimonial funds, and substituting an admonishment not to do anything wrong in the future.

Dodd, excused from voting at his own request, said the lopsided vote didn't discourage him.

The white-haired, two-term senator told newsmen later he has "complete confidence" in the final outcome because: "I have been guilty of no conscious wrongdoing."

Expected today are the showdown votes on the two counts in the censure resolution recommended by the Senate ethics committee following a 14-month probe of Dodd's financial affairs.

One count charges Dodd with converting $116,083 raised at political testimonials and similar events to his own use. The second accuses the senator of double-billing the Senate and private groups for travel expenses. Each is to be voted on separately.

Only Sen. Russell B. Long — author of the proposed substitute resolution — and Dodd's fellow Connecticut Democrat, Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, voted for it in the late Wednesday balloting.

Area Driver Cleared In Youth's Car Death

BEAVER — A Beaver County Court jury Wednesday acquitted Roy Bailey of Smiths Ferry R.D. 1 of two charges in connection with the traffic death of Morris Sandy Martin, 19, of Midland.

Bailey's car hit and fatally injured the youth on Route 168 in Ohioville in December. The jury yesterday issued not guilty verdicts on charges of involuntary manslaughter and driving while intoxicated filed against Bailey.

Rain In Area Proves 'Drop In The Bucket'

While some rain fell in the area this morning, it was only a smattering of that needed to help remedy problems created by the present dry spell.

And the forecast holds little hope of additional rain within the next 24 hours, although cooler weather is promised.

The prediction is for clearing and a little cooler tonight, with a low near 60, and fair and a little cooler Friday.

Summer began officially at 9:23 p.m. Wednesday.

Former Resident Wins Prize For Poem On Father

Robert J. Hasson of Avon Park, former city and Salem resident, has won third place in an international poetry contest for the blind and visually handicapped.

Hasson, who moved from Salem two years ago, won the award for his poem, "My Dad," which appeared in the Christian Record Talking Magazine for the first quarter of 1967.

He lost his sight three years ago as a result of a stroke. Hasson is now making white canes for the blind, and has received a number of orders.

Although his right hand was affected by the stroke, he has learned to type to keep up with correspondence, and is active in caring for his flowers and shrubs.

He and his wife have four sons — two in the Navy — and a daughter.

2 Reunions Set By Littell Clan

Two reunions will be held this summer by descendants of Squire William Littell.

One will be July 4 at the home of Frank and Bette White, site of the former Gen. John S. Littell farm on Wallace Rund Rd., near Darlington, and the other Aug. 13 at the farm home of Ellie and Bill Littell near the interscetion of Routes 18 and 30.

Walter W. Littell of Mt. Tabor, N.J., will review the early years of William Littell of Kentucky during the July 4 get-together. William Littell, lawyer, poet and essayist, was the codifier of Kentucky's early laws and was known as one of America's earliest satirists.

Guests of honor at the Aug. 13 meeting will be Miss Edith and Miss Elinor Littell of Williamstown, Ky. They are great-great - great granddaughters of James Littell.

Epley Drive Obtains $700

Over $700 has been collected to date in a drive to pay a $3,000 hospital bill for Russell Epley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Epley of Midland Ave., Midland.

Injured April 1 in a motorcycle incident on Route 168 in Greene Township, Epley has been in a semi - conscious condition at St. Francis Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Since Russell is ineligible for family hospitalization coverage, neighbors and friends, including Mrs. Robert Corradi and Mrs. Anna Kovacic, have been sponsoring a drive to help Russell.

The donations are being placed in a trust fund in Russell's name at the Midland Branch of the Beaver Trust Co. Donations may be forwarded to Mrs. Kovacic at 57 Midland Ave., Midland.

Russell is a 1967 graduate of Lincoln High School. On Awards Day, though he was not present, he was honored for achievements in art and sculpture. Two of his entries in the National Scholastic Magazine Art Contest won national recognition.

Those spearheading the drive expressed appreciation for contributions so far, and, say they are optimistic of reaching the goal.

Donations may be mailed to the Beaver Trust Co. marked "The Russell Epley Hospital Fund," the bank advised.

curricular activities, including athletics and band.

Passage of the bill itself came over strenuous objection from Rep. Norman A. Murdock, R-Hamilton, who contended this "measure is an injustice."

Murdock argued that because at most a school board must wait only six months to take tax issues back to the people for reconsideration, more special elections are unwarranted.

Referring to the practice of asking the people over and over again for approval of an issue, he suggested, "Beating a man on the head will open it, but it also will close his ears."

50 Officers Attend Class

Fifty law enforcement officers from throughout Columbiana County and parts of neighboring Beaver and Hancock Counties attended a "school" on use of tear gas in East Liverpool Wednesday night.

Some of the officers are shown examining a car into which tear gas was fired as part of the demonstration staged by the Lake Erie Chemical Co. The body is riddled with bullet holes as a result of previous target practice.

Sponsored by the local police department, the school was held from 6 to 8 p. m. on the city's new 150-acre sanitary landfill along the Y. & O. Rd. in Madison Township. In addition to officers from Columbiana County, the Midland police department and the Hancock County sheriff's office each sent one representative.

The chemical company's representatives demonstrated use of tear gas shells and grenades. Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice of East Liverpool was in charge.

Hookstown Area Girl Takes Part In State Session

Lois Whitehill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde Whitehill of near Hookstown, is one of 214 future leaders from throughout Pennsylvania attending Keystone Girls State on the campus of Shippensburg State College.

Miss Whitehill, who will be a senior next fall at South Side High School, is being sponsored by American Legion Auxiliary 952 of Hookstown.

The purpose of Keystone Girls State is to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age; to afford them an opportunity to live together as self-governing citizens; to inform them about the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship, in order that they may understand and participate in the functioning of their government, and to help them grasp the meaning of some of the responsibilities which they must assume when they become adults.

Keystone Girls State consists of eight cities and three counties, and has typical government established at city, county and state levels. The girls, known as citizens, serve in the capacity of the elective or appointive offices which they may hold. All elections are conducted in the same manner as regular municipal, county and state elections in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Selective Taxes Only Answer

In projecting a new concept in taxation, the state administration must be extremely careful not to perpetuate the very practice it now finds objectionable.

State Finance Director Richard L. Krabach has issued a position paper which calls for greater reliance on local taxation as a substitute for increased state taxation.

With this, we are in full agreement. Not all communities require the same degree of taxation. Needs vary, ability to pay differs. Local resources are the key to local needs, as the director puts it.

We also are in agreement with Mr. Krabach that ways must be found to relieve the burden on real estate. All subdivisions of local government have taken aim on the property owner, with the result that many deserving issues have been submerged under an avalanche of "No" votes.

But in suggesting relief for real estate taxpayers, the state administration appears to be supporting an excessive burden on the wage earner in the form of an additional income tax.

UP TO THIS POINT, only cities and villages have been given authority to impose income taxes — and then only up to one per cent without a vote of the people.

Now the Rhodes administration is going to recommend a permissive income tax by the county up to one per cent.

This we strongly oppose for reasons which we outlined in an editorial June 3.

Our position is that efforts should be made to channel subdivisions into specific fields of taxation, so that no one of them will be overburdened.

For example, income taxes should be reserved for cities and villages, and councilmanic authority should be granted to increase the maximum by a fractional percentage above the current one per cent.

By the same token, real estate taxation should be reserved for education. If subdivisions other than school districts are restrained from tapping this source of revenue, most boards of education will be supported in a ratio that bears some relationship to need.

The state, as it does now, could correct invaluation after a minimum millage for both operating and capital investment had been imposed by taxpayers.

MOST COUNTIES need more revenue than they now are able to extract from real estate. But the taxes which should be made permissive for them should not duplicate the major sources of the cities, villages or school districts.

Directo Krabach has two ideas, in addition to his objectionable income tax proposal.

They are a utility sales tax of 1 to 5 per cent and a $5 increase in motor vehicle license plates. Some special form of taxation in this area would be acceptable if the state, as it should, waived some of its pre-emption rights.

A mishmash of tax bills has been introduced in the General Assembly. We have no way of knowing which, if any, have the endorsement of Gov. Rhodes and his administrative staf

We are convinced that some order needs to be established so in an atmosphere of chaos and confusion the wrong bills are not approved.

IF THE PRESENT trend of hit-and-miss proposals is permitted to continue, the state could wind up with a complex of new and permissive taxes that would bring wailing and gnashing of teeth unrecorded this side of a banshee scream-in.

What is needed is a highly selective, realistic, intelligently channeled program that has the free and open support of the Rhodes administration.

A Dry Beaver Creek?

The broad, ever-flowing expanse of the Ohio River has tended to dull the concern of most valley residents about future water needs.

But areas north and south of the valley now and in the future face real problems in providing vital water for growing residential sections and industry.

A proposal in Mahoning County focuses attention on the water resources of Columbiana County, and should alert all county and community leaders, industrials and conservationists — in fact anyone interested in the county in years to come.

A six-mile long lake, formed by impounding the waters of Beaver Creek northeast of Salem, has been proposed as an additional water supply for southern Mahoning County. The project has been turned over to Youngstown public affairs consultants for a study and possible application for approval by the state.

Capacity of the lake in Green Township would be six billion gallons, more than half of the present Youngstown Meander Reservoir. The plan stems from a report by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources in 1959 urging Mahoning County to build such a reservoir.

If the lake were constructed to the proposed specifications, one-third of it would be in Columbiana County, and it is possible parts of northern Columbiana County could be served.

What effect such an impoundment would have on lower Beaver Creek — at Lisbon, through Beaver Creek State Park and elsewhere—is uncertain.

The future water needs of the county are also uncertain, contingent upon expansion of present industry and introduction of new industry, upon the growth of communities, upon recreation and natural conservation programs.

Beaver Creek is an important resource to this county, the protection of which and the development of which must be safeguarded from misuse, waste and the possibility of pollution or drying up.

The Western states offer an example of failure to prepare for future water needs, and Colorado in particular is suffering from the loss of former sources to other areas and is now paying heavily to provide water for its people and industries.

The inland county water needs — present and future — and the protection of the state park along the creek must certainly have priority over any Mahoning County proposal.

Another Massacre?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Last year President Johnson's civil rights program was massacred in Congress and the one he asked for this year looks headed for the same fate. The reasons are about the same because nothing much has changed.

Negro violence is one.

After the House passed Johnson's civil rights bill in 1966, the Senate killed it with a filibuster. And Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic majority leader, indicated why.

He mentioned "marches, shootings and inflammatory speeches" and said "there is no place for mob mentality and its deliberate stimulation." Already this year there have been riots, shootings and inflammatory speeches before Congress got down to work on Johnson's 1967 program.

Johnson has been conscious of the effect of street violence on the Senate, which has been apathetic about civil rights ever since it passed the 1965 act.

When he offered this year's proposals in a special message Feb. 15 Johnson, noting the 1966 riots' chilling effect in the Capitol, sounded pretty much like Mansfield.

"LAWLESSNESS," he said, "cannot be tolerated in a nation whose very existence depends upon respect for the law." As an antidote he suggested creating "conditions for public order based upon equal justice."

Riots weren't the only deadening effect last year. It was an election year and by the time the bill came up in the Senate the members were anxious to get home. And there was the influence of antagonistic, individual senators.

This was particularly true of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, leader of the Senate Republicans. He gagged totally on the open housing section of the bill.

This section was intended to prevent discrimination against Negroes in the sale and rental of housing, even though its reach was limited since it would have banned discrimination in only about 40 per cent of the nation's housing units.

Dirksen called it unconstitutional, an invasion of private rights — an argument which had a lot of echoes around the country, although one Negro leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., called Dirksen a hypocrite.

Another rigid antagonist last year was the chairman of the Senate's powerful Judiciary Committee, Sen. James O. Eastland, a Mississippi Democrat. He has been against civil rights legislation all the way.

He is against this year's bill, too, predicting it will meet the same end as last year's. And Mansfield says he doesn't see much difference between the 1966 and 1967 bills.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People this year, as in the past, has worked zealously to get new legislation on the books, but some of the senators most sympathetic to its efforts think the outlook is dim.

PERHAPS some sections of what Johnson asked for may get through, but there seems little reason at this moment to think so. He offered a seven-point program whose open housing section went further than his 1966 suggestion.

He asked for legislation which would wipe out housing discrimination altogether by 1969.

These are his other six points:

Strengthen present laws against interference with civil rights workers and others.

Do the same with state juries.

Authorize the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to issue enforceable cease-and-desist orders against racial discrimination.

Strengthen the 1964 Civil Rights Act ban on discrimination in hiring, promotion of workers and membership practices of labor unions.

Extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission another five years.

Put more money into the Community Relations Service which tries to settle community disputes before they erupt into riots.

Purely Personal

I have developed an obsession about the distinction about rising prices and taxes and devaluation of dollars. We are witnessing dollars devaluation — heading for a time when what used to be a 75-cent lunch will cost $7.50 and so on.

The United Nations, which exists to keep peace, makes it clear why peace cannot be kept. People who misrepresent other people in the name of government make lifelong careers of picking fights with one another to show what fearless leaders they are.

Chicago is shaping up as the favorite convention site for both political conventions in 1968. If Chicagoans come up with the required inducement of around half a million dollars apiece, the deal can be closed.

Meaning no disrespect, I can think no head of state looks less like a head of state than Alexsei N. Kosygin, premier of the Soviet Union, who looks like a small-town grocer.

It now is three weeks since I finished planting my flower garden. In that time one five-minute shower has come to my rescue. My intention to give up all gardening is about to be realized — involuntarily.

The Flip Side!

Twin Killing

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

There has been some confusion as to how much aid the Soviet Union gave the Arab nations during the recent unpleasantness in the Middle East. What nobody knows is that the Soviets' real intention was to help Israel. But they had to do it in such a way that neither the Arab countries nor the West would find out about it.

Art Buchwald

It seems the Soviet Union has been trying to increase its arms business to compete with the United States and Great Britain. One of the most likely prospects was Israel, which was finding it hard to get military equipment from the West. The Soviets said they would give Israel everything it wanted, but it would have to be done in such a way that it wouldn't anger the Arab countries or even some Communist-leaning states.

Israel said it was interested, but didn't want to do anything to anger the United States, Great Britain and France.

Encouraged by what could turn out to be a very good customer, the Soviet Union proceeded to devise a way of getting Russian arms into the hands of well-equipped Israeli army. The big question was, 'How?"

THEN SOMEONE in the Politburo (the Soviets refuse to say who) got a brilliant idea. He told the Israeli diplomats, "We naturally cannot sell you the weapons directly, but why don't we give them to the United Arab Republic and then you can get our weapons from them?"

The Israelis pointed out that the U.A.R. might be reluctant to give the Israels any of their Soviet weapons. The Soviets told them not to worry about it. "Just give us a list of what you need," they said.

The Israelis, trusting implicity in the good faith of the Soviet Union, handed in a list including tanks, guns, armored cars, jeeps, small arms and, surprisingly enough, six or seven Soviet ground-to-air missiles.

A year later the Soviets told the Israelis that their order was ready and would be delivered in a month.

The Israelis were puzzled, but decided to wait and see what would happen. Sure enough, in May Gamal Abdel Nasser closed the Gulf of Aqaba and moved seven divisions of his troops and armor into the Sinai desert.

At the same time the Soviet Union accused Israel of being an "aggressor," which was the code name for "customer."

ON JUNE 5 the Israelis went to collect their equipment in the Sinai desert, where it was conveniently left by Egyptian troops, many of whom didn't even wait to be tipped for delivering it. The tanks, personnel carriers, guns and even missiles were brand new. A few were damaged in transit, but by and large the Russians had made everything available as ordered.

Some Soviet items accidentally left off the list were delivered to the Israelis, via Syria, a few days later.

All in all it was quite a coup for the Soviet Union. In one of the great business deals of our time, the Soviets managed to collect twice for the same equipment, first from the Arabs and then from the Israelis.

As a folow-up it has been reported that the Soviets are sending in new arms and equipment to the United Arab Republic. What nobody knows is that all they're doing is filling another Israeli order for equipment. One of Soviet diplomat told me. 'By supplying the Arabs with arms, Israel has turned out to be the best customer we've go."

Labor Needs Statesmanship

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK — There is a time for home front and homespun statemanship — and this is it as the nation hurtles into a series of new transportation crises, massive teachers' strikes, a vast west coast (gateway to Vietnam) warehouse stoppage, paralysis of vital wartime copper production, an auto shutdown and some major traumas such as the stalling of front-line Navy repairs and transoceanic shipping.

Victor Riesel

Since this too is a moment when the giants can learn from the Davids, there is a sage of labor statesmanship which should no longer go unreported. In this script, the lead is taken by one Alex Rose, a labor leader with whom some of us have not always agreed since he set fashions in politics as well as millinery as well as industrial statesmanship — as well as in a comprehension that the employer is not always the man in the black hat and is entitled to surcease from high blood pressure.

Mr. Rose, who has one of the nimblest political minds in the land, is president of the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International Union (AFL-CIO) which has some 40,000 members. His theory is that unions, large and small, can always win a war (strike) but may not always "retain the victory." Rose practices what he preaches. During a recent discussion of the evaporating newspaper field here, he pointed to moves his small but militant union has made to preserve industrial peace, keep employers in business and save payrolls for his people.

NOT TOO LONG AGO in this "big town," the owners of a West 39th Street skyscraper, in which much of the millinery industry was concentrated, were preparing to sell the big building. This disturbed Rose and his colleagues. New owners might mean higher rents, increased costs for the marginal hat and millinery producers and they might quit the business or bolt New York.

So the union went to the realtors and offered them a $2 million dollar, low-interest mortgage loan. In return, the Hatters union simply wanted a guarantee that none of the millinery manufacturers would be pushed out or rents increased. The pact was made. The money was lent. The producers stayed. The millinery workers kept their jobs.

The hatters are tough bargainers. But it takes two to bargain. So part of this saga is the story of a big hat plant in Amesbury, Mass. It was owned by an 82-year-old industrialist who simply decided the time had come to retire. He wanted to close the plant, dismantle it and add the cash to his comfort in his old age.

ROSE'S UNION then moved in. They bought the factory. They retained the old management which had been running the shop for the retiring industrialist. The union, though it controlled the board of directors, did not interfere with the executives. Through the operating management people, the Hatters negotiated with its own members who were represented by a local there.

Now the plant makes money. Dividends are paid. Wages are increased. A sizeable payroll pumps good fortune into the New England community.

Not too far away, in West Upton, some time ago, another hat plant was having tough going. It needed cash. Rose offered it a $250,000 loan. The union negotiated with the creditors. They were paid off. The crisis passed.

Rose reports that the plant would have died if not for the low-interest loan. Now some 700 people work there. They get paid. Profits are made.

SOMETIMES, says Rose, unions should trade traditional labor behavior and tactics for industrial statesmanship.

Perhaps Rose's statesmanship comes easy because his is a small union in a soft goods industry. Perhaps not.

But his formula of live and let live is worth trying. If labor and management don't wipe out the cries themselves, the Congress will do it for them. Then everybody will wail.

The Red Rule

By David Lawrence

It's Tell 'Em Nothing

What Premier Kosygin did and said on his visit to New York and the United Nations shows how a monolithic government functions.

Not only were the words condemning the policies of the United States agreed on in the Kremlin and the premier parroted them, but the Soviet people were denied an opportunity on the same day to hear President Johnson's speech on rebuttals to their premier's address by other speakers at the United Nations.

The Kremlin moves slowly in order to get a consensus among members of the top Communist committee. It was considered important to keep from the Russian people any knowledge of Premier Kosygin's walk in New York City and the obviously friendly reception given him, and it was equally important not to broadcast or reprint the significant speech made by President Johnson on Monday morning, just before the U.N. General Assembly met.

These tactics are not unusual. The Communist oligarchy in Moscow is afraid to let the people of Russia know of the friendly spirit prevailing in this country toward all other nations and of the sincere desire of the representatives of most governments in the United Nations to find a way to achieve an enduring peace in the Middle East.

COMMUNIST policy seeks to keep up the ill feeling and even to exacerbate it by denunciation of the United States and Great Britain.

It was withdrawal of the U.N. Force at the request of Egypt which precipitated war. Yet, Premier Kosygin insisted on calling the Israeli government the aggressor and demanded that effective measures be taken to restore not merely the boundary lines which existed earlier this year but those set in 1948.

This would cost Israel 23 per cent of the territory held before the recent war began.

It is not surprising that the Soviet government decided to let its mechanical spokesmen at the U.N. General Assembly repeat the accusations and demands which have become ingrained in Soviet policy, irrespective of consequences to the peace of the world.

Nor was it unexpected that Premier Kosygin assailed U.S. policy and demanded that the United States withdraw from Vietnam. Certainly any conference between President Johnson and Premier Kosygin would be meaningless.

ALL THESE maneuvers are part of the Communist concept that there must never be any modification or change in a policy once adopted. It means the Soviet government is not interested in planning a peace by conciliation and wants to keep the Middle East in constant turmoil. The London Daily Telegraph sums up the situation in an editorial:

"Just as President Nasser tried to divert attention from the unmitigated disaster of which he was the architect by the pantomime of his proffered resignation, so Mr. Kosygin is trying to recover the shirt he so embarrassingly lost in the Middle East stakes in a propaganda spectacular at the U.N. General Assembly. In their policies the two are combining to frighten the West into coercing Israel into surrendering all her gains, which would leave her exposed to even greater risks of annihiliation than before. Egypt is doing this by keeping Suez closed and calling on Arab oil producers to boycott Britain and America: Russia by threatening to re-arm the Arabs and to give them whatever support is necessary to ensure their speedy victory in the next round. Britain, America and their friends need not, and must not, yield an inch to this blackmail."

The Soviet game may not be clear to many Americans who wonder how Moscow can gain any advantage, because Israel holds the territory and is not likely to give it up under threats.

There may be realists in Moscow, however, who in due course will come to understand that these moves are futile. But it takes a long while to convince the Communists that persistence in illusion does not pay.

What nobody knows is that the Soviets' real intention was to help Israel. But they had to do it in such a way that neither the Arab countries nor the West would find out about it.

Art Buchwald

It seems the Soviet Union has been trying to increase its arms business to compete with the United States and Great Britain. One of the most likely prospects was Israel, which was finding it hard to get military equipment from the West. The Soviets said they would give Israel everything it wanted, but it would have to be done in such a way that it wouldn't anger the Arab countries or even some Communist-leaning states.

Israel said it was interested, but didn't want to do anything to anger the United States, Great Britain and France.

Encouraged by what could turn out to be a very good customer, the Soviet Union proceeded to devise a way of getting Russian arms into the hands of well-equipped Israeli army. The big question was, 'How?"

THEN SOMEONE in the Politburo (the Soviets refuse to say who) got a brilliant idea. He told the Israeli diplomats, "We naturally cannot sell you the weapons directly, but why don't we give them to the United Arab Republic and then you can get our weapons from them?"

The Israelis pointed out that the U.A.R. might be reluctant to give the Israels any of their Soviet weapons. The Soviets told them not to worry about it. "Just give us a list of what you need," they said.

The Israelis, trusting implicity in the good faith of the Soviet Union, handed in a list including tanks, guns, armored cars, jeeps, small arms and, surprisingly enough, six or seven Soviet ground-to-air missiles.

A year later the Soviets told the Israelis that their order was ready and would be delivered in a month.

The Israelis were puzzled, but decided to wait and see what would happen. Sure enough, in May Gamal Abdel Nasser closed the Gulf of Aqaba and moved seven divisions of his troops and armor into the Sinai desert.

At the same time the Soviet Union accused Israel of being an "aggressor," which was the code name for "customer."

ON JUNE 5 the Israelis went to collect their equipment in the Sinai desert, where it was conveniently left by Egyptian troops, many of whom didn't even wait to be tipped for delivering it. The tanks, personnel carriers, guns and even missiles were brand new. A few were damaged in transit, but by and large the Russians had made everything available as ordered.

Some Soviet items accidentally left off the list were delivered to the Israelis, via Syria, a few days later.

All in all it was quite a coup for the Soviet Union. In one of the great business deals of our time, the Soviets managed to collect twice for the same equipment, first from the Arabs and then from the Israelis.

As a folow-up it has been reported that the Soviets are sending in new arms and equipment to the United Arab Republic. What nobody knows is that all they're doing is filling another Israeli order for equipment. One of Soviet diplomat told me. 'By supplying the Arabs with arms, Israel has turned out to be the best customer we've go."

Labor Needs Statesmanship

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK — There is a time for home front and homespun statemanship — and this is it as the nation hurtles into a series of new transportation crises, massive teachers' strikes, a vast west coast (gateway to Vietnam) warehouse stoppage, paralysis of vital wartime copper production, an auto shutdown and some major traumas such as the stalling of front-line Navy repairs and transoceanic shipping.

Victor Riesel

Since this too is a moment when the giants can learn from the Davids, there is a sage of labor statesmanship which should no longer go unreported. In this script, the lead is taken by one Alex Rose, a labor leader with whom some of us have not always agreed since he set fashions in politics as well as millinery as well as industrial statesmanship — as well as in a comprehension that the comployer is not always the man in the black hat and is entitled to surcease from high blood pressure.

Mr. Rose, who has one of the nimblest political minds in the land, is president of the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International Union (AFL-CIO) which has some 40,000 members. His theory is that unions, large and small, can always win a war (strike) but may not always "retain the victory." Rose practices what he preaches. During a recent discussion of the evaporating newspaper field here, he pointed to moves his small but militant union has made to preserve industrial peace, keep employers in business and save payrolls for his people.

NOT TOO LONG AGO in this "big town," the owners of a West 39th Street skyscraper, in which much of the millinery industry was concentrated, were preparing to sell the big building. This disturbed Rose and his colleagues. New owners might mean higher rents, increased costs for the marginal hat and millinery producers and they might quit the business or bolt New York.

So the union went to the realtors and offered them a $2 million dollar, low-interest mortgage loan. In return, the Hatters union simply wanted a guarantee that none of the millinery manufacturers would be pushed out or rents increased. The pact was made. The money was lent. The producers stayed. The millinery workers kept their jobs.

The hatters are tough bargainers. But it takes two to bargain. So part of this saga is the story of a big hat plant in Amesbury, Mass. It was owned by an 82-year-old industrialist who simply decided the time had come to retire. He wanted to close the plant, dismantle it and add the cash to his comfort in his old age.

ROSE'S UNION then moved in. They bought the factory. They retained the old management which had been running the shop for the retiring industrialist. The union, though it controlled the board of directors, did not interfere with the executives. Through the operating management people, the Hatters negotiated with its own members who were represented by a local there.

Now the plant makes money. Dividends are paid. Wages are increased. A sizeable payroll pumps good fortune into the New England community.

Not too far away, in West Upton, some time ago, another hat plant was having tough going. It needed cash. Rose offered it a $250,000 loan. The union negotiated with the creditors. They were paid off. The crisis passed.

Rose reports that the plant would have died if not for the low-interest loan. Now some 700 people work there. They get paid. Profits are made.

SOMETIMES, says Rose, unions should trade traditional labor behavior and tactics for industrial statesmanship.

Perhaps Rose's statesmanship comes easy because his is a small union in a soft goods industry. Perhaps not.

But his formula of live and let live is worth trying. If labor and management don't wipe out the cries themselves, the Congress will do it for them. Then everybody will wail.

The Red Rule

By David Lawrence

It's Tell 'Em Nothing

What Premier Kosygin did and said on his visit to New York and the United Nations shows how a monolithic government functions.

Not only were the words condemning the policies of the United States agreed on in the Kremlin and the premier parroted them, but the Soviet people were denied an opportunity on the same day to hear President Johnson's speech on rebuttals to their premier's address by other speakers at the United Nations.

The Kremlin moves slowly in order to get a consensus among members of the top Communist committee. It was considered important to keep from the Russian people any knowledge of Premier Kosygin's walk in New York City and the obviously friendly reception given him, and it was equally important not to broadcast or reprint the significant speech made by President Johnson on Monday morning, just before the U.N. General Assembly met.

These tactics are not unusual. The Communist oligarchy in Moscow is afraid to let the people of Russia know of the friendly spirit prevailing in this country toward all other nations and of the sincere desire of the representatives of most governments in the United Nations to find a way to achieve an enduring peace in the Middle East.

COMMUNIST policy seeks to keep up the ill feeling and even to exacerbate it by denunciation of the United States and Great Britain.

It was withdrawal of the U.N. Force at the request of Egypt which precipitated war. Yet, Premier Kosygin insisted on calling the Israeli government the aggressor and demanded that effective measures be taken to restore not merely the boundary lines which existed earlier this year but those set in 1948.

This would cost Israel 23 per cent of the territory held before the recent war began.

It is not surprising that the Soviet government decided to let its mechanical spokesmen at the U.N. General Assembly repeat the accusations and demands which have become ingrained in Soviet policy, irrespective of consequences to the peace of the world.

Nor was it unexpected that Premier Kosygin assailed U.S. policy and demanded that the United States withdraw from Vietnam. Certainly any conference between President Johnson and Premier Kosygin would be meaningless.

ALL THESE maneuvers are part of the Communist concept that there must never be any modification or change in a policy once adopted. It means the Soviet government is not interested in planning a peace by conciliation and wants to keep the Middle East in constant turmoil. The London Daily Telegraph sums up the situation in an editorial:

"Just as President Nasser tried to divert attention from the unmitigated disaster of which he was the architect by the pantomime of his proffered resignation, so Mr. Kosygin is trying to recover the shirt he so embarrassingly lost in the Middle East stakes in a propaganda spectacular at the U.N. General Assembly. In their policies the two are combining to frighten the West into coercing Israel into surrendering all her gains, which would leave her exposed to even greater risks of annihiliation than before. Egypt is doing this by keeping Suez closed and calling on Arab oil producers to boycott Britain and America: Russia by threatening to re-arm the Arabs and to give them whatever support is necessary to ensure their speedy victory in the next round. Britain, America and their friends need not, and must not, yield an inch to this blackmail."

The Soviet game may not be clear to many Americans who wonder how Moscow can gain any advantage, because Israel holds the territory and is not likely to give it up under threats.

There may be realists in Moscow, however, who in due course will come to understand that these moves are futile. But it takes a long while to convince the Communists that persistence in illusion does not pay.

At Annual Meeting Here

New Officers Are Named For Junior Achievement

Nelson R. Hagerty, cashier of the First National Bank, was elected president of 1967-68 during the annual meeting of Junior Achievement of Southeastern Columbiana County Wednesday at the Inn Town Motel.

Others named are: Mike Turk, Inc., vice president; Robert Sauer of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., treasurer, and Joseph Hall, secretary of the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce, secretary.

Elected to new terms as directors were William Bush, Wellsville attorney; Arthur Doak of East Liverpool, manager of the Milligan Hardware and Supply Co., and Thomas Rodfong, associated with the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Re-elected directors were Joseph D. Coons, who served as president during the past year, Gordon E. Starkey, Ralph A. Finley, Max Shoff, Rudy G. May, Charles Steinhauser, William Pomeroy Jr. and Hagerty, Sauer, Turk and Snyder.

Gerald Winstead of East Liverpool was retained to serve as program manager a second year.

Junior Achievement sponsored six companies in the area during the year just completed, raising the funds necessary to provide leadership and facilities. The companies were operated by students in the East Liverpool, Beaver Local and Wellsville schools.

Hagerty reported that the 1966-67 year closed with a treasury balance of $523.55, representing funds already contributed for the coming year. Operating expenses amounted to $3,280.33 for the past year.

Turk reported on a meeting of JA officers at Cleveland and Wayne Snyder of the J. C. Penney Co. here reported on recruiting of sponsoring firms.

A sponsoring firm provides three advisers and financial aid to a JA company.

Riverboats Set To Use New Inland Radio Net

A new maritime communications network with stations in Ironton and Steubenville is to go into operation Friday for river boats plying the Ohio River, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. said today.

The network, being activated in sections, will provide improved ship-to-shore communications via maritime radio. The section from Steubenville to Ironton eventually will become a link in an inland waterways communications chain stretching along the Monongahela, Ohio, Illinois, Missouri and Mississippi Rivers from Uniontown, Pa., to New Orleans.

The network is the result of a cooperative venture by Ohio Bell, Pennsylvania, Cincinnati and Suburban, Indiana, South-Bell System companies. Also taking part in the network will be a number of independent telephone companies and other companies licensed to provide radio communications to the general public.

Twenty-five stations along the more than 2,000 - mile route will enable vessels to make ship-to-shore calls via maritime radio instead of the present arrangement using mobile radio channels, which also are used by telephone - equipped motor-vehicles. Use of maritime radio for all river traffic will also provide additional room on the mobile radio frequencies.

River boats will be able to use their maritime radios for all calls, thus eliminating the need for an extra receiver and transmitter, which were necessary for ship-to-shore calling under the old setup.

Of the 25 stations along the route, 13 are being built and will be operated by Bell System companies, with the other 12 to be maintained by the non - Bell companies.

Investment in the two Ohio Bell stations amounted to $40,000. When the full network begins operation at the end of the year, other nearby non-Bell stations will be located at Pittsburgh, Glenwillard and Point Pleasant.

Three Sessions Scheduled During Hancock 4-H Camp

Three sessions have been scheduled during July for the annual Hancock County 4-H camp at Tomlinson Run State Park.

The dates are: Camp I — for members between the ages of 9 and 12, July 3-7; Camp II—for members between the ages of 9 and 13, July 7-11; Camp III — for members between 13 and 18 years of age, July 11-15. Registration will be held the first day of each camp at 5 p.m.

Classes and group discussions will range from crafts to swimming.

Each session will close with a "jungle party." A "camp spirit," the most outstanding youngster, also will be selected during each period.

A total of 215 have registered for the annual outing, with 17 members in Camp III having signed for charting, a self-evaluation program carried on by the 4-H. Members completing the program and meeting all requirements qualify for the 4-H pin.

Oliver Johnson, Hancock County agricultural Extension agent, is in charge. Members of the camp committee are Earl Jones of Weirton, chairman; Theodore Kokochak, Arthur Ryan, Mrs. Kenneth Timberlake and Miss Carolissa Wylie of Weirton, Mrs. Kenneth Renfro of Newell and Mrs. James Gracie and John Mayhew of Pughtown.

Two registered nurses will be on duty. They are Mrs. Oliver Johnson of Weirton and Mrs. Ruth Hobbs of New Cumberland.

Third In Hunts Set On Saturday

The Tri-State Coon Club will hold the third in a series of six special hunts Saturday at 8 p. m.

Registration will be conducted at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. building in Glenmoor.

Lester Bickel, master of hounds, said 10 trophies will be offered. They all will be awarded on points scored by the dogs. Previously some trophies were awarded handlers.

Refreshments will be sold by members' wives.

Bickel reminded handlers the hunts will be conducted under UKC rules. A grand trophy will be awarded the winning dog at the end of the series of hunts.

A dinner is planned.

Local Opposition Hit On Law Enforcement

CHARLESTON (AP) — Gov. Hulett C. Smith said Wednesday State Police are hindered in enforcement of liquor and gambling laws by local opposition.

Smith said there were some local officials in areas around the state "who aren't really interested in a crackdown."

Ohio County Prosecuting Attorney Arch W. Riley recently criticized Smith's administration for doing little to prevent the spread of gambling in the state.

The Governor said in reply that state police "are ready to cooperate in any effort to prevent law-breaking."

Transformer Return Waited At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — The 20-ton stepup transformer at the municipal light plant, linked to a 10-hour power interruption on Jan. 29, has been repaired and will be shipped back to the city about July 15 from the Allis-Chalmers plant near Milwaukee, Wis.

Safety-Service Director George McGuckin said an inspection at the plant indicated the unit, costing $25,000, had been damaged by lightning. A portion of the estimated $15,000 cost of repairs and transportation will be covered by insurance.

In the interim period there has not been a restriction on power use, with service being rerouted, McGuckin pointed out.

Every conceivable kind of insect and spider flees from the approaching horde when a column of army ants is on the move in the South American jungle, but the spotted ant pitta or ant bird makes its appearance at such times and gorges itself on the insects.

Dresden Ave. Mishap Costs Motorist $25

Charles R. Howell, 18, of 335 Dresden Ave. was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court as an aftermath of a spectacular mishap Tuesday afternoon in which his car veered off Dresden Ave., struck a parked house trailer and then rebounded into a utility pole.

Howell, a pottery - worker, pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a reckless driving charge filed by Patrolman W. F. Copestick. Police said the car swerved off the roadway in the 1000 block of Dresden Ave., hit a trailer owned by Robert C. Craven of 3rd St., Beaver, and then bounced into an Ohio Power Co. pole.

Meanwhile, Parma Ludwig, 23, of 404 Aten Ave., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs and given a 10-day suspension of her driver's license after she pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone. She was cited Monday at 2:55 p. m. on Route 7 after being clocked by a State Highway Patrol airplane.

Wilbur E. Booze, 24, of Euclid forfeited a $32.50 bond on a charge of speeding 80 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on Route 30. He was cited by the patrol Wednesday at 11:15 a.m.

Bertha E. Leishman of 600 Jefferson St., Salineville, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of speeding 86 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. She was clocked by the patrol's aircraft Monday at 2:35 p. m.

The judge commented he did not suspend her license because she uses her auto to make daily visits to her ailing 82-year-old father in East End. But he warned the woman a new violation will lead to a suspension of her license, regardless.

Calvn E. Creamer, 46, of Glenmoor was ordered to pay court costs on a charge of improper auto registration. Cited Sunday on North Side Ave., he had been granted a continuance to obtain proper registration.

Man Gets 4-8 Years

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Pittsburgh man faces four to eight years in Western Penitentiary for the murder of an inmate at the Allegheny County Workhouse.

John Keen, 22, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter Dec. 14, 1965. He was charged with stabbing George C. Cameron, 25, of Mount Washington July 30, 1965 with a cabbage knife while they were working in the Workhouse kitchen.

Bethany Puts W. F. Porter On Its Board

William F. Porter, president of the Globe Brick Co. at Kenilworth, has been elected a member of the board of trustees of Bethany College, his alma mater.

The announcement was made jointly today by Dr. Perry E. Gresham, Bethany president, and Maynard L. Patton of Ft. Thomas, Ky., chairman of the trustees.

Porter received a B.A. degree with a major in economics from Bethany in 1940. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

He served on the Bethany College Alumni Association and Alumni Council during 1960-62.

During World War II, he served with the Army in Europe.

His wife, the former Bertha Jane Jacob, also attended Bethany.

Their son, William F. Porter Jr., received a B.S. degree with a major in chemistry in 1964.

Porter's uncle, Sidney C. Porter, former chairman of the board of trustees of Bethany, is honored with a memorial plaque which is displayed in the board room at the Cramblet Hall administration building.

Truck Involved In Accident One Of Two Stolen Vehicles

The truck involved in an accident at Wellsville Wednesday, in which an auto was demolished and a utility pole sheared, was discovered to have been one of two vehicles stolen earlier from a garage at East Fairfield.

The rig, a 1965 GMC two - door tandem, was taken Tuesday night or Wednesday morning from Midway Motors on Route 7, the Columbiana County sheriff's office said.

Also taken was a 1966 GMC sleeper tandem, still being sought.

The wrecked truck had a license plate registered to Danny Owler of Rogers. Deputies said the plate also was stolen.

The older truck smashed into a parked car and a pole about 3:30 a. m. yesterday on Wells Ave. Its driver, described as "very small," jumped from the cab of the rig and fled, witnesses said. Wellsville police theorize the two trucks may have been traveling together and the driver of the damaged truck was picked up by his comrade.

Deputies learned of the thefts about 11 a. m. yesterday when Mike Mercure, owner of Midway Motors, noticed the vehicles missing from a lot across the roadway from his firm. No keys had been left in the cabs and investigators assume the ignition had been "jumped."

World War Vets Plan Midland Post Meeting

Midland Barracks 2119, Veterans of World War I, will meet Sunday afternoon at 3 at the Midland American Legion Post home.

Tri-State Band Rehearses For Eight Concerts

The Tri - State Community Brass Band, sponsored by East Liverpool Local 172 of the American Federation of Musicians, is rehearsing weekly in preparation for eight summer concerts, Donald Hunsberger, director, said.

Musicians from Local 172, area high schools and college students home for the summer will participate in the concerts, co-sponsored by local organizations and through a grant from the Recording Industries Trust Funds allotments.

There will be a public concert each Sunday afternoon, beginning July 2 at Rock Springs Park. July 9 will mark the beginning of concerts at the Ralph Johnson Memorial Amphitheater at Thompson Park. They will begin at 2 p. m.

Hunsberger is band director at Westgate Junior High School.

The term "philosophic religions" embraces Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism and Confucianism. All these religions have a morality and a creed of nonviolence; all teach charity and all admit of evil forces and good.

Dresden Ave. Mishap Costs Motorist $25

Charles R. Howell, 18, of 335 Dresden Ave. was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court as an aftermath of a spectacular mishap Tuesday afternoon in which his car veered off Dresden Ave., struck a parked house trailer and then rebounded into a utility pole.

Howell, a pottery - worker, pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a reckless driving charge filed by Patrolman W. F. Copestick. Police said the car swerved off the roadway in the 1000 block of Dresden Ave., hit a trailer owned by Robert C. Craven of 3rd St., Beaver, and then bounced into an Ohio Power Co. pole.

Meanwhile, Parma Ludwig, 23, of 404 Aten Ave., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs and given a 10-day suspension of her driver's license after she pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone. She was cited Monday at 2:55 p. m. on Route 7 after being clocked by a State Highway Patrol airplane.

Wilbur E. Booze, 24, of Euclid forfeited a $32.50 bond on a charge of speeding 80 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on Route 30. He was cited by the patrol Wednesday at 11:15 a.m.

Bertha E. Leishman of 600 Jefferson St., Salineville, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of speeding 86 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. She was clocked by the patrol's aircraft Monday at 2:35 p. m.

The judge commented he did not suspend her license because she uses her auto to make daily visits to her ailing 82-year-old father in East End. But he warned the woman a new violation will lead to a suspension of her license, regardless.

Calvn E. Creamer, 46, of Glenmoor was ordered to pay court costs on a charge of improper auto registration. Cited Sunday on North Side Ave., he had been granted a continuance to obtain proper registration.

Lisbon Group Holds Annual Rose Contest

LISBON — The Lisbon Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. A. G. Marshall of Sunset Dr. Tuesday night, with the annual rose contest, sponsored by the late John Noble, featured.

First place went to Mrs. Marshall's "Golden Showers" pillar rose and second to Mrs. Byron Albright's old - fashioned pink moss rose. Mrs. E. S. Huffman of Salem was the judge. Winners were presented a crimson glory rose bush by Mrs. Noble.

"Places to go in Ohio" were described by Mrs. Joseph Dornon. Mrs. Albright discussed "Rose Culture."

Floyd Lower of Lisbon, a member of the Forests and Parks Council and the Columbiana County Regional Planning Committee, explained projects planned for Lisbon.

Red geraniums in an antique basket, white daisies in an old coffee grinder and mock orange blossoms in a black kettle featured the decorations.

Pink linen covered the punch table, presided over by Mrs. Perlee Bye. Featured was an arrangement of purple clematis in an antique white ironstone bottle, placed before silver candelabra, holding pink candles. It was arranged by Mrs. Vincent Judge.

A coverdish picnic will be held July 18 at the home of Mrs. Aubrey Blocksom of Scroggs Rd.

Officers Are Elected

22 Will Face Charges Of Tax Law Violations

City Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson today filed affidavits in Municipal Court charging 22 persons with violation of the municipal income tax ordinance by failure to file final returns on 1966 earnings or estimates of 1967 income.

April 30 was the deadline for the returns, which are required of all persons whose entire earnings are not subject to withholding at the source. Wilkinson estimated at the time that about 400 failed to comply with the law. He said he will file charges in groups of 20 to 25 until all the defendants have complied with the law or have been haled into court.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff will set a hearing date for the cases. Then each defendant will be served with a summons directing him to appear in court.

Drivers Warned At Shippingport

Police Chief Richard Kiss of Shippingport has advised all motorists traveling through the borough that the motor vehicle code will be strictly enforced. He said Shippingport's police will be using unmarked vehicles for patrolling and requests motorists drive carefully.

He said in the past several weeks there have been several drinking parties reported in various locations in the Borough and warned this will not be tolerated. Anyone caught in this practice will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

He also reminded residents of the ban against fireworks. Children have been severely injured in the past by fireworks, and the penalty for violation is as high as $500 or a year's imprisonment or both.

He said, "Play safe; visit one of the local displays on the Fourth of July and have a happy holiday!"

Fairbanks Cleans Up After 7 Earthquakes

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Residents were sweeping up, mopping floors, and repairing broken glass today in the wake of seven earthquakes that rocked this area Wednesday.

It was the worst shaking this inland Alaska city has felt in three decades, but did not approach the devastation caused by the March 1964 earthquake in the Anchorage area.

There were no reports of injuries here Wednesday and no major structural damage.

Broad Alert Issued For Missing Inmates

The Hancock County sheriff's department said today a 13-state police network and the FBI have been alerted of the two prisoners who last Thursday walked away from the County Jail at New Cumberland.

The pair, Thomas Durbin, 18, of East Liverpool and John Seay, 41, of Ridgeway, Va., serving a life term for rape, left the jail between 11:30 and 11:40 p. m. June 15, made their way to East Liverpool and reportedly took a taxicab to Pittsburgh.

Longsworth Proposes Lie Detection Controls

By WILLIAM V. MERRIMAN
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ground rules for operators of lie detection equipment are proposed in a bill introduced in the Ohio Senate Wednesday by State Sen. John Longsworth, R-Salem.

Longsworth's bill would bring regulation of private polygraph examiners under an Ohio Polygraph Commission to be administered within the state attorney general's office.

IT WOULD require the examiners to be licensed, with a $100 initial fee and $25 renewal fees every two years.

Exempted from license requirements would be examiners engaged in "bona fide" scientific research, law enforcement officers, members of the armed forces and federal employes.

Longsworth said growing use of lie detectors requires some form of control.

His bill proposes a five-member polygraph commission appointed by the governor. Three would have to be licensed examiners.

To qualify for certification, the bill would require a person to be a U.S. citizen at least 24 years old, with five years in a detective agency, law enforcement agency, investigative arm of the military or be a college graduate.

Operating wtihout a license would subject the violator to a fine of from $1,000 to $3,000 and not more than three years in prison.

—:—

MEANWHILE, in committee hearings Wednesday, Longsworth said he's looking for more answers to the need for legislation to allow banks to establish branch offices in counties adjacent to the county where they maintain their main offices.

Said the legislature's youngest member after the committee hearing: "I want to hear more testiomony on it."

But, he added, he's "inclined to vote against it at the present time."

The bill would allow big banks to expand into neighboring counties and establish branch offices.

Longsworth said he feared this would "reduce the number of banks" in Ohio.

"Small counties surrounded by big counties should have banks of their own with local control," he said.

Newlyweds Residing Here After Eastern Honeymoon

A full-length gown of Chantilly lace was worn by Miss Linda Marie Marshall when she became the bride of Larry R. Hamilton June 10 at 6:45 o'clock in St. Aloysius Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Marshall of 222 Ravine St. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hamilton of Morton St.

Fr. Donald DeCarlo officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar background of white gladioli and carnations along with ferns and candelabra. Satin bows, touched with carnations, marked the family pews.

Mrs. James O'Reilly presented organ music before the ceremony and accompanied her husband for vocal selections.

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. The Empire-style bodice of her gown featured a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long, pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt of ruffled tiers fell into a cathedral train in the back.

A large cabbage rose, adorned with sequins and pearls, held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of white carnations and ivy, centered with an orchid. In observing the traditions, she carried a lace handkerchief that belonged to her grandmother, Mrs. Wade Glass.

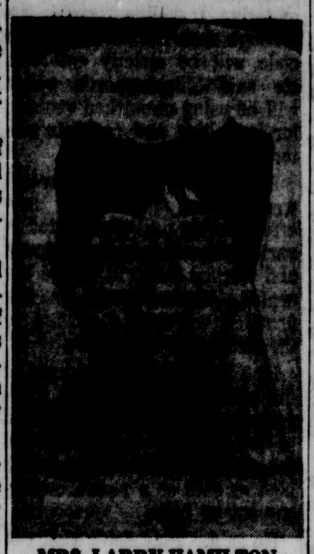

Miss Kathy Marshall, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Hamilton, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Susie Williams.

They appeared in Empire - style gowns fashioned with deep pink lace bodices and poudre pink sheath skirts of nylon organza. The matching trains were of lace. Their cabbage rose headpieces held veils of silk illusion. They carried bouquets of miniature pink and white carnations.

Michael Schuck served as best man. Ushers were Roger Clendenning and Richard Lamborn.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of mint green lace and white accessories and the bridegroom's mother, a blue lace dress with contrasting jacket frosted with white. Corsages of white orchids complemented their attire.

Grandmothers of the bride attending were Mrs. Glass, in a pink silk suit, and Mrs. Charlotte Marshall, in a blue silk dress. Both had white carnation corsages.

MRS. LARRY HAMILTON
Weds In Church Rites.

The double - ring ceremony was performed by Fr. James Cavanaugh before an altar of mums and gladioli. Anthony Di Cello was organist.

—:—

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of Swiss lace with a scalloped neckline trimmed with sequins and pearls. Long, pointed sleeves and a shoulder train of faille taffeta lined in Swiss net completed the gown.

A headpiece in the pillbox style and trimmed in white rosebuds and seed pearls secured a fingertip veil of illusion edged with lace.

The familiar traditions were observed, the bride wearing a sixpence in her shoe.

A cascade arrangement of orchids and white carnations was carried by the bride. She placed a bouquet at the base of a statue of the Virgin Mary.

Miss Marian Carlson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor - length frock of Empire design fashioned from peacock blue chiffon and lined with matching taffeta. The gown was finished with long sleeves and a cowl neckline trimmed with satin.

Miss Carlson wore a maline headpiece accented with silk roses which matched her gown. A bouquet of yellow daisies and white carnations was carried by the maid of honor.

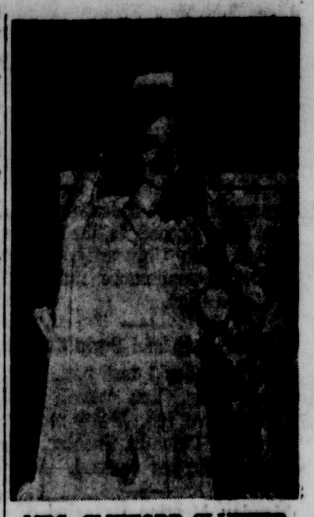

James Clutter, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Desmond McCullagh, Charles McCullagh and Roy McCullagh were ushers.

A dress of aqua crepe with a matching lace coat was chosen by the mother of the bride. She wore white accessories and a corsage of carnations.

A headpiece in the pill-box style and trimmed in white rosebuds and seed pearls secured a fingertip veil of illusion edged with lace.

The familiar traditions were observed, the bride wearing a sixpence in her shoe.

A cascade arrangement of orchids and white carnations was carried by the bride. She placed a bouquet at the base of a statue of the Virgin Mary.

Miss Marian Carlson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor - length frock of Empire design fashioned from peacock blue chiffon and lined with matching taffeta. The gown was finished with long sleeves and a cowl neckline trimmed with satin.

Miss Carlson wore a maline headpiece accented with silk roses which matched her gown. A bouquet of yellow daisies and white carnations was carried by the maid of honor.

James Clutter, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Desmond McCullagh, Charles McCullagh and Roy McCullagh were ushers.

A dress of aqua crepe with a matching lace coat was chosen by the mother of the bride. She wore white accessories and a corsage of carnations.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a dress of orange crepe and lace with white accessories and a carnation corsage.

A RECEPTION for 135 was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Riverside Ave., Wellsville. A buffet dinner was served.

MRS. CLIFFORD CLUTTER
Has Double-Ring Rites,.

A pink and white color scheme dominated. The bridal table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Mrs. Virginia Pelly and Miss Yvonne Carlson registered guests from Maryland, Chicago, Georgia, Cincinnati, Ptitsburgh, Patton, Industry, East Liverpool and Wellsville.

For a honeymoon to Geneva-on-the-Lake, the bride chose a multi - colored suit with black accessories.

The bride, graduated from Wellsville High School in 1966, is employed at Russells Dairy. Her husband is stationed with the Navy at San Francisco. He was graduated from Wellsville High School in 1965.

For devotions, Mrs. Bright read Acts 28:19-29 and an article, "The Heavenly Vision" (Today). A convalescent card was signed for Mrs. Martha Noble, teacher. Members were reminded to make articles for the bazaar of the Women's Association and the Women's Service Group in November.

There were 10 members and Mrs. Inez McGhan of East Liverpool, a guest, present.

Lifetime Sketches Theme During Progressive Party

"Sketches from a Lifetime" formed the program theme during the Tuesday night progressive party of Dia Konia Class of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Eva Bailey Pittenger, who has been active in all phases of church work, was honored with a handkerchief and card shower.

Skits on her life were introduced by Mrs. Lester Hall, program chairman, who spoke of her birth in East Liverpool and her family.

Mrs. H. Gene Toot, costumed as a gypsy, brought memories of an early childhood experience with a song-and-dance number.

—:—

HER LIFE as a teacher was related by Mrs. Howard Martin, who mentioned that Mrs. Pittenger was graduated from Kent State University and taught in the local schools and in New Castle.

Diane Perkins, 7, whose mother, Mrs. Sondra Perkins, was a Sunday School student of Mrs. Pittengers, gave a recitation, "Mother Told Me," and sang "Tell Me the Stories of Jesus."

Mrs. Kenneth Johnson read original poetry, "Eva's Garden;" Mrs. James Sheets discussed her love of nature, and Mrs. Stanley Rose her experiences at Beaver Creek Camp, where Mrs. Pittenger served as a counselor.

A crowning as "Pickle Queen" was conducted by Mrs. Howard Claypool, who pinned a winning ribbon award and presented a jar of pickles to the honored guest, noted for the canning of pickles.

Mrs. Lettie Hunsicker told of the Red Cross volunteer work of Mrs. Pittenger, who recently completed a course in home nursing and served 87 hours as a worker. She displayed items made in the course and placed the Red Cross hat on the guest.

—:—

DISTRIBUTING packaged slices of bread to the audience, Mrs. William E. Kaiser read poetry on the early employment of Mrs. Pittenger during the sales promotion campaign of "honey bread" by the Kaiser Baking Co.

The group sang a parody of "Rock of Ages" entitled "Our Dear Eva." It was printed on yellow paper decorated with orchid and blue ruffled maline.

Mrs. Pittenger received a white Bible from the class. She discussed her future plans, when she will be residing at the Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian Home, 225 Britton Rd., Monroe, Ohio.

The first stop of the caravan of 40 members and guests was at the home of Mrs. Homer Huston of Blackmore St., who served the "appetizer" on the patio. She was assisted by Mrs. Earl Lones and Mrs. Leone Wood.

Mrs. Rose of Stagecoach Rd. was hostess for the main course and was assisted by Mrs. Theda Campbell, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Reid Calcott and Mrs. John Evans.

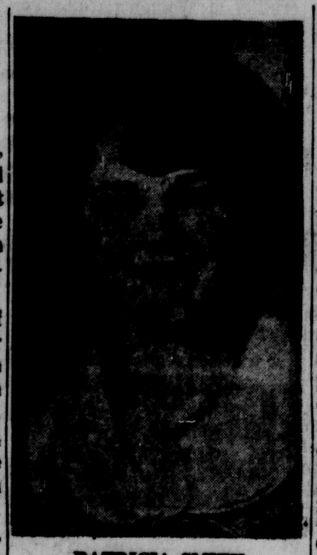

Dessert was served on the lawn of the home of Mrs. Martin of Meadowbrook Circle, Calcutta. Co - hostesses were Miss Grace Deidrick and Mrs. Evans.

Mrs. Clark Bradfield conducted devotions on "The Art of Living," outlining the responsibility and influence of homemakers.

Business was directed by Mrs. Lones, president, with reports heard from Mrs. Sheets, secretary; Mrs. Hunsicker, treasurer, and Mrs. Delbert Tittle, building fund chairman.

The class appropriated $42 for Beaver Creek Camp scholarships and $150 for the sound system in the sanctuary.

Following a summer recess, class sessions will resume Sept. 19 at the home of Mrs. Calcott on Louisiana Ave., Chester.

Pope Encyclical To Say 'No' For Priests To Wed

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI will issue an encyclical Friday saying "no" to demands that priests be allowed to marry, high Vatican sources said today.

A papal pronouncement confirming the Church's rule of celibacy for the clergy has been expected for weeks. It will be the sixth encyclical of Pope Paul's four-year reign.

In the last 10 years, about 10,000 of the Roman Catholic Church's 420,000 priests have asked the Vatican for release from their vows, Vatican sources have said. Such a release enables man to leave the priesthood, marry and still remain a Catholic in good standing.

Although they face possible excommunication, several priests recently have married without permission.

Seaman Is Assigned To Great Lakes Base

HAMMONDSVILLE — Seaman Alan Casto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Casto, has been assigned to the Great Lakes (Ill.) Naval Training Station. A former member of the Naval Reserve unit at Steubenville, he was graduated from Stanton Local High School this year.

A Short Stork

LEBANON, Ky. (AP) — A physician was rushing to a rural home to deliver the family's 12th child. When he pulled into the yard, the doctor almost ran over a duck. He explained this to the new father, who sighed and remarked: "That wasn't a duck. It was the stork with its legs worn down."

Fund Projects, Picnic Outlined By K. Of C. Group

Plans for fund projects and a family picnic were discussed during a meeting of Fr. Thome Council 5885 of the Knights of Columbus Tuesday at St. Ann's Church Hall.

John B. Ferlaino, grand knight, conducted business and led a discussion on the programming of meetings and the responsibilities of officers and members.

A rummage sale will be held at the building at E. 6th and Washington Sts. in July. The date will be announced.

The meeting scheduled for July 4 was cancelled because of the holiday. A meeting of program chairmen will be held prior to that date, Ferlaino said.

Fr. William H. Hohman, chaplain, offered prayer. Ferlaino and his committee served refreshments. The next meeting will be July 18.

"Sketches from a Lifetime" formed the program theme during the Tuesday night progressive party of Dia Konia Class of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Eva Bailey Pittenger, who has been active in all phases of church work, was honored with a handkerchief and card shower.

Skits on her life were introduced by Mrs. Lester Hall, program chairman, who spoke of her birth in East Liverpool and her family.

Mrs. H. Gene Toot, costumed as a gypsy, brought memories of an early childhood experience with a song-and-dance number.

—:—

HER LIFE as a teacher was related by Mrs. Howard Martin, who mentioned that Mrs. Pittenger was graduated from Kent State University and taught in the local schools and in New Castle.

Diane Perkins, 7, whose mother, Mrs. Sondra Perkins, was a Sunday School student of Mrs. Pittengers, gave a recitation, "Mother Told Me," and sang "Tell Me the Stories of Jesus."

Mrs. Kenneth Johnson read original poetry, "Eva's Garden;" Mrs. James Sheets discussed her love of nature, and Mrs. Stanley Rose her experiences at Beaver Creek Camp, where Mrs. Pittenger served as a counselor.

A crowning as "Pickle Queen" was conducted by Mrs. Howard Claypool, who pinned a winning ribbon award and presented a jar of pickles to the honored guest, noted for the canning of pickles.

Mrs. Lottie Hunsicker told of the Red Cross volunteer work of Mrs. Pittenger, who recently completed a course in home nursing and served 87 hours as a worker. She displayed items made in the course and placed the Red Cross hat on the guest.

—:—

DISTRIBUTING packaged slices of bread to the audience, Mrs. William E. Kaiser read poetry on the early employment of Mrs. Pittenger during the sales promotion campaign of "honey bread" by the Kaiser Baking Co.

The group sang a parody of "Rock of Ages" entitled "Our Dear Eva." It was printed on yellow paper decorated with orchid and blue ruffled maline.

Mrs. Pittenger received a white Bible from the class. She discussed her future plans, when she will be residing at the Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian Home, 225 Britton Rd., Monroe, Ohio.

The first stop of the caravan of 40 members and guests was at the home of Mrs. Homer Huston of Blackmore St., who served the "appetizer" on the patio. She was assisted by Mrs. Earl Lones and Mrs. Leone Wood.

Mrs. Rose of Stagecoach Rd. was hostess for the main course and was assisted by Mrs. Theda Campbell, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Reid Calcott and Mrs. John Evans.

Dessert was served on the lawn of the home of Mrs. Martin of Meadowbrook Circle, Calcutta. Co - hostesses were Miss Grace Deidrick and Mrs. Evans.

Mrs. Clark Bradfield conducted devotions on "The Art of Living," outlining the responsibility and influence of homemakers.

Business was directed by Mrs. Lones, president, with reports heard from Mrs. Sheets, secretary; Mrs. Hunsicker, treasurer, and Mrs. Delbert Tittle, building fund chairman.

The class appropriated $42 for Beaver Creek Camp scholarships and $150 for the sound system in the sanctuary.

Following a summer recess, class sessions will resume Sept. 19 at the home of Mrs. Calcott on Louisiana Ave., Chester.

Pope Encyclical To Say 'No' For Priests To Wed

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI will issue an encyclical Friday saying "no" to demands that priests be allowed to marry, high Vatican sources said today.

A papal pronouncement confirming the Church's rule of celebacy for the clergy has been expected for weeks. It will be the sixth encyclical of Pope Paul's four-year reign.

In the last 10 years, about 10,000 of the Roman Catholic Church's 420,000 priests have asked the Vatican for release from their vows, Vatican sources have said. Such a release enables man to leave the priesthood, marry and still remain a Catholic in good standing.

Although they face possible excommunication, several priests recently have married without permission.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What can I do to get my mother to forgive my father?

For five years my father was unfaithful but he has told Mom that he never loved the other woman, and he'll not see her any more.

Mom has asked Dad for a divorce, not because she doesn't love him, but because she thinks he would be happier if he were free. She blames herself for his unfaithfulness — says if she had been the right kind of wife he wouldn't have strayed.

I don't think Dad really understands how Mom feels. Should I suggest that he be more affectionate and take her out more? Would that help?

We kids love both Mom and Dad and we hate to think of our family being busted up. Several of our friends have divorced parents and it's just rotten — summers with one, weekends split up and nobody happy.

Please print some suggestions for children of parents who are having trouble. We need your help. — IN A PANIC.

-:-

Dear In: It's a sad state of affairs when kids have to act as mediators for battling parents.

If you feel that either or both Mom or Dad would be receptive to your advice, by all means offer it. In the meantime, I'm printing your letter so squabbling parents can see how they appear in the eyes of their children.

I'm adding my own plea that they get some outside counseling and learn how to live together.

A Sick Camera

Dear Ann: I've been a reader of your column ever since I learned how to read. I'm 13 years old now and I need your advice.

A schoolmate died last week and everyone was very sad about it. Several of us girls went to the funeral home to pay our last respects. One of the girls in the group took a camera along and made several pictures of the classmate in the casket. She has asked me if she should give a few of the pictures to the parents of the deceased.

I don't know what to tell her. Please help. — MISS M. D.

Dear Miss: My immediate reaction is a strongly negative one, but much to my surprise, in the past, I have received such a variety of opinions about photographing deceased people in caskets that I hesitate to say no. The girl who took the pictures should ask the parents if they would like the photographs.

No Tea For Two

Dear Ann: I'm 26, the mother of three children. It just so happens that I do not like coffee or tea. It's not a matter of religious conviction, I simply prefer milk or a glass of cold water.

It seems that whenever I go to a luncheon or a dinner, someone makes a point of my not drinking coffee or tea, and I end up looking like a freak.

Yesterday I attended a church social and when I refused coffee and asked for milk or water, the woman said, "Any person who cannot enjoy a hot cup of coffee after a meal must be mentally disturbed."

How can I defend myself? — PERSECUTED.

-:-

Dear Pers: No one needs to give a reason for declining any beverage or food. Just ignore the clods and forgive them for their bad manners

Humphrey Faces Indirect Contact In Korea Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's visit to South Korea for the inauguration of President Chung Hee Park could find the vice president indirectly involved in a seething political dispute.

South Korea's opposition party, claiming irregularities in the June 8 parliamentary elections, has vowed to boycott the National Assembly on July 1 — the scheduled date for Park's inauguration to a second four-year term.

Students have loudly protested the parliamentary election results, in which Park's party won 130 of 175 National Assembly seats. Park has since expelled a number of his party members from the assembly, but the government party still holds 102 seats.

The White House announced Wednesday that Humphrey and his wife will fly to South Korea next Wednesday and spend several days there in addition to attending the inauguration.

Motorist Cited In Area Mishap

A city motorist was cited after his car rammed a parked vehicle and then hit an embankment at 6:45 a. m. today on Route 7, two-tenths of a mile north of the Route 30 intersection.

The Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Michael J. Schuck, 19, of 609 Bradshaw Ave. was cited for speed in excess of road and weather conditions after his car struck a parked vehicle owned by Robert J. Mackoul, 35, of Sheffield, Mass.

Schuck lost control and his car veered into a parking lot, hitting the car, and then continued into an embankment.

Charles D. Carter, 17, of West End, Salineville, also was cited for speed in excess of conditions after his 1967 sedan struck an embankment along Route 164, a half - mile south of Route 518 Wednesday at 9:30 p. m.

Carter was northbound when the car dropped off the right side of the road and he lost control. Moderate damage resulted to the vehicles.

Doctors Say Everything Fine With Luci And Baby

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Luci Johnson Nugent gave her baby his first bottle of sugar and water, and doctors reported everything was going well with the President's daughter and his first grandchild.

Patrick Lyndon Nugent was reported making perfect progress in the maternity wing of Seton Hospital, where he was born Wednesday morning.

"Everybody's happy," said father Patrick J. Nugent as he gave an interview Wednesday night, 12 hours after the birth of his first child.

The baby was wheeled in his bassinet into Luci's hospital room for a first feeding of water and glucose, Nugent said.

The 23-year-old Nugent smilingly confessed he found fatherhood an enjoyable experience.

He reported his 19-year-old wife "gay and cheerful." She had received a telegram from her father, the President, in which Nugent said Lyndon B. Johnson sent word that "his prayers were with her."

There was a continuing flow of flowers for the President's daughter at the hospital, where she and her baby were occupying the fourth-floor maternity-wing hospital rooms under Secret Service guard.

One of the floral displays, moved into Luci's room, came from New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a White House spokesman here said.

Nugent handed out cigars and candy as he announced with tears in his eyes and in a cracking voice early Wednesday that his wife had given birth to an 8-pound, 10-ounce baby boy, 21 inches long.

"It's an elephant, isn't it?" Nugent commented to reporters with a big grin.

Toward the end of the day, Nugent confided he chose the name for his first offspring. It was a combination of his own name and that of his paternal grandfather with a middle name of Lyndon after his father-in-law, the President.

He also confided he had expected his first child to be a girl—"I don't know why."

The President and First Lady expressed their happiness and Mrs. Johnson said she was relieved as well that the birth went without a hitch.

Luci was in labor at the hospital for six hours and her delivery team of five doctors said it was a perfectly normal labor and delivery.

Family and friends were notified and Nugent said he called his brother, Gerard P. Nugent Jr., in San Diego, Calif., whose wife, Phyllis, is expecting a baby any time now.

Meanwhile things were settling into a routine at the hospital for Luci and her newborn son.

Visiting with her during the evening, Nugent decided what his wife should choose from the hospital menu. Instead of the dinner offerings, he picked hot cereal, to the surprise of the nurse on duty.

The family left to Nugent the announcement of the birth of his first son, and he offered reporters cigars and candy and a beaming report on his wife's progress.

Man 'Critical' After Being Shot In Monaca Home

MONACA, Pa. (AP) — Police said a man was shot in the head and the side by his father-in-law Wednesday night during a quarrel after the man came to visit his estranged wife.

Robert Toth, 28, was listed in critical condition at Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh after being transferred from Rochester General Hospital.

Police said that Toth entered the Monaca home of Joseph Pace, 55, to visit his wife. Police said a quarrel followed, Pace went to the kitchen, and returned with a .32 automatic pistol.

Police say they will charge Pace with assault with a deadly weapon. He was taken ill during the interrogation and was taken to the Rochester Hospital.

15 Are Arrested In Disturbance At Struck Plant

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The Richland County Sheriff's office called for help from the Ohio Highway Patrol and Mansfield police today after picket line trouble began at the strikebound Stevens Manufacturing Co. in nearby Lexington.

Fifteen arrests on disorderly conduct charges were made before help arrived, Sheriff Thomas F. Weikel reported.

The sheriff said about 100 persons gathered at the plant this morning, blocking the gate and stopping nonstriking employes from entering. A court injunction limits the number of pickets to 12 at a time.

Sale of the company to Essex Wire Co. of Fort Wayne, Ind., was announced last week.

The strike by electrical workers began in late May after the union and company failed to agree on a new contract. There have been several other picket line disturbances.

Where Soviet Premier's Staying

Detective Intercepts Man At Soviet Mission Door

NEW YORK (AP)—A detective asked the neatly dressed man who had strolled past a dozen policemen and had a foot inside the door of the mission where the Soviet premier was meeting with aides what he had in the canvas bag he was carrying. "A gun," replied the man.

Detective James Savarese already had him by the elbow as he was walking into the Soviet U.N. Mission. In seconds Wednesday, a group of policemen surrounded the 5-foot-5, slender man and found a loaded .32-caliber revolver, ammunition and a 10-inch hunting knife in the blue bag.

It was the third time since Premier Alexei N. Kosygin arrived Saturday that an unauthorized person has seemed to penetrate the heavy security screen around him. But city police and State Department security forces insisted there were no holes in the protective net.

They said the man looked suspicious but was let through police barriers and up to the door of the mission because they wanted to be sure he was acting alone.

However, immediately after the arrest, police added a number of plainclothesmen to the detail on 67th Street between Lexington and 3rd Avenue.

Police identified the man as Michael Rocco Natale, 42, and charged him with possession of a dangerous weapon. At his arraignment in Criminal Court he was committed to Bellevue Hospital for observation.

Natale said he was an engineer but police described him as a drifter who slept in Bowery hotels.

Asst. Dist. Atty. David Richman told the court that Natale recently asked the State Department for permission to "visit friends" in the Soviet Union but did not elaborate on that.

The Alaska State Police said Natale was arrested in Nome on Sept. 1, 1964 on charges of disorderly conduct and had in his possession a copy of a letter he had sent to Nikita S. Khrushchev saying he wanted to discuss a world peace plan with the then Soviet premier.

Police said when Natale was questioned Wednesday he told them, "I didn't intend to harm anyone." He said he simply wanted to talk to any Soviet delegate about peace, police said.

On Monday, Esher Prager, 39, of the Bronx, got through the gate, police said.

15 Are Arrested In Disturbance At Struck Plant

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The Richland County Sheriff's office called for help from the Ohio Highway Patrol and Mansfield police today after picket line trouble began at the strikebound Stevens Manufacturing Co. in nearby Lexington.

Fifteen arrests on disorderly conduct charges were made before help arrived, Sheriff Thomas F. Weikel reported.

The sheriff said about 100 persons gathered at the plant this morning, blocking the gate and stopping nonstriking employes from entering. A court injunction limits the number of pickets to 12 at a time.

Sale of the company to Essex Wire Co. of Fort Wayne, Ind., was announced last week.

The strike by electrical workers began in late May after the union and company failed to agree on a new contract. There have been several other picket line disturbances.

Where Soviet Premier's Staying

Detective Intercepts Man At Soviet Mission Door

NEW YORK (AP)—A detective asked the neatly dressed man who had strolled past a dozen policemen and had a foot inside the door of the mission where the Soviet premier was meeting with aides what he had in the canvas bag he was carrying. "A gun," replied the man.

Detective James Savarese already had him by the elbow as he was walking into the Soviet U.N. Mission. In seconds Wednesday, a group of policemen surrounded the 5-foot-5, slender man and found a loaded .32-caliber revolver, ammunition and a 10-inch hunting knife in the blue bag.

It was the third time since Premier Alexei N. Kosygin arrived Saturday that an unauthorized person has seemed to penetrate the heavy security screen around him. But city police and State Department security forces insisted there were no holes in the protective net.

They said the man looked suspicious but was let through police barriers and up to the door of the mission because they wanted to be sure he was acting alone.

However, immediately after the arrest, police added a number of plainclothesmen to the detail on 67th Street between Lexington and 3rd Avenue.

Police identified the man as Michael Rocco Natale, 42, and charged him with possession of a dangerous weapon. At his arraignment in Criminal Court he was committed to Bellevue Hospital for observation.

Natale said he was an engineer but police described him as a drifter who slept in Bowery hotels.

Asst. Dist. Atty. David Richman told the court that Natale recently asked the State Department for permission to "visit friends" in the Soviet Union but did not elaborate on that.

The Alaska State Police said Natale was arrested in Nome on Sept. 1, 1964 on charges of disorderly conduct and had in his possession a copy of a letter he had sent to Nikita S. Khrushchev saying he wanted to discuss a world peace plan with the then Soviet premier.

Police said when Natale was questioned Wednesday he told them, "I didn't intend to harm anyone." He said he simply wanted to talk to any Soviet delegate about peace, police said.

On Monday, Esher Prager, 39, of the Bronx, got through the gate, police said.

Chamber Summary

6 Boosts Shown By Area Indices

Six of 13 East Liverpool district business and industrial indices finished the first five months of 1967 at levels ahead of the points they attained at the same time in 1966, the Chamber of Commerce said today in its monthly summary of conditions.

Gains were reported in bank debits, postal receipts, inbound railroad carloadings, used car sales, parking meter receipts and advance payments of Ohio sales taxes in Columbiana County. The declines were shown in industrial payrolls and employment, outbound carloadings, river traffic, bank clearings and new car registrations. River freight tonnage was unchanged.

BANK DEBITS averaged $31,275,013 monthly in the first five months of the year, a gain of 2.6 per cent from the $30,474,605 average listed at the same time in 1966. They reached $33,177,889 in May, rising 4.3 per cent from the $31,808,856 in April.

Postal receipts reached $130,629 during the first five months of 1967, a boost of 3.3 per cent from the $126,420 shown at the same time last year. They stood at $26,597 in May, a gain of 12.3 per cent from the $23,694 in April.

Inbound railroad carloadings stood at 1,364 in the first five months of 1967, a gain of 5.8 per cent from the 1,289 at the same time in 1966. They reached 243 in May, a gain of 20.9 per cent from the 201 in April.

The county's used car sales totaled 5,290 in the first five months of 1967, a boost of 21.2 per cent from the 4,365 at the same time in 1966. They reached 1,300 in May, off 1.9 per cent from the 1,325 in April.

The city's parking meter receipts reached $36,680 in the first five months of 1967, a gain of 36.2 per cent from the $26,922 listed at the same time in 1966. The receipts hit $7,468 in May, off 19.1 per cent from the $9,236 in April.

Prepaid state sales tax in Columbiana County hit $672,111 for the first five months of the year, a gain of 5.1 per cent from the $639,366 at the same time in 1966. The payments hit $96,609 in May, rising 13.7 per cent from the $84,960 in April.

BANK clearings hit $20,103,245 in the first five months of 1967, a drop of 3 per cent from the $20,725,396 at the same time in 1966. They reached 4,026,861 in May, off 2.5 per cent from the $4,128,706 in April.

Payrolls at 11 industrial plants stood at $6,497,209 for the first five months of 1967, dropping 8.7 per cent from the $7,114,693 listed at the same time in 1966. The plants paid out $1,274,243 in wages in May, virtually unchanged from the $1,282,472 in April.

Employment at the same plants averaged 3,527 monthly for the first five months of 1967, a drop of 9.1 per cent from the 3,879 at the same time in 1966. The plants had 3,525 on the job in May, virtually unchanged from the 3,514 in April.

Outbound railroad carloadings hit 1,659 in the first five months of 1967, a drop of 23.8 per cent from the 2,178 at the same time in 1966. They stood at 375 in May, off 1.3 per cent from the 380 in April.

District dams locked through 2,205 towboats in the first five months of 1967, a drop of 4.3 per cent from the 2,305 rivercraft listed in the same time in 1966. The dams handled 450 craft in May, a drop of 8.5 per cent from the 492 in April.

The river traffic in the first five months of 1967 represented 8,736,500 tons of cargo, virtually unchanged from the 8,657,966 in the same interval in 1966. The May traffic represented 1,705,700 tons, off 3 per cent from the 1,758,900 tons in April.

New car registrations in Columbiana County hit 1,586 in the first five months of 1967, off 18.1 per cent from the 1,936 at the same time in 1966. They reached 388 in May, up 4.6 per cent from the 371 in April.

Two Weirton Banks Included On List Of Planned Holdups

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Five of six men arrested in raids Wednesday were free today on bail to await a hearing on conspiracy charges stemming from alleged plots to rob three banks, an armored truck and a hotel.

Three of the six are reputed Cosa Nostra crime syndicate leaders.

The robberies, however, were never staged, U.S. Atty. John T. Curtin said. They allegedly involved two banks in Weirton, W. Va., and one in Buffalo; an armored truck owned by Armored Transport of Los Angeles, Inc., and the Beverly Hills Hilton Hotel in California. Plans for the robberies were formulated in 1963 and 1965, Curtin added.

The six men were arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Edmund F. Maxwell, who set June 30 as a preliminary hearing date.

Those arrested were:

Frederico G. Randaccio, 59, of Buffalo, who police labeled as an underboss to Stefano Magadino of Lewiston, reputed leader of the Cosa Nostra in western New York and a part of Ontario, Canada.

Pasquale Natarelli, 58, Buffalo, reputedly Magaddino's lieutenant.

Salvatore Pieri, 56, Buffalo, who police said was Magaddino's chief lieutenant before serving an eight-year sentence on a narcotics conviction.

Others arrested in early-morning raids on their homes were Daniel J. Domino, 64, of suburban Kenmore, and Nicholas Rizzo, 48, and Stephen A. Cino, 30, both of Buffalo.

All, except Pieri and Domino, also were charged with violation of the Hobbs act, a federal law prohibiting interference with commerce.

All, except Pieri, were freed on bail ranging from $5,000 to $50,000 within six hours of their arrests.

Two Weirton Banks Included On List Of Planned Holdups

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Five of six men arrested in raids Wednesday were free today on bail to await a hearing on conspiracy charges stemming from alleged plots to rob three banks, an armored truck and a hotel.

Three of the six are reputed Cosa Nostra crime syndicate leaders.

The robberies, however, were never staged, U.S. Atty. John T. Curtin said. They allegedly involved two banks in Weirton, W. Va., and one in Buffalo; an armored truck owned by Armored Transport of Los Angeles, Inc., and the Beverly Hills Hilton Hotel in California. Plans for the robberies were formulated in 1963 and 1965, Curtin added.

The six men were arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Edmund F. Maxwell, who set June 30 as a preliminary hearing date.

Those arrested were:

Frederico G. Randaccio, 59, of Buffalo, who police labeled as an underboss to Stefano Magadino of Lewiston, reputed leader of the Cosa Nostra in western New York and a part of Ontario, Canada.

Pasquale Natarelli, 58, Buffalo, reputedly Magaddino's lieutenant.

Salvatore Pieri, 56, Buffalo, who police said was Magaddino's chief lieutenant before serving an eight-year sentence on a narcotics conviction.

Others arrested in early-morning raids on their homes were Daniel J. Domino, 64, of suburban Kenmore, and Nicholas Rizzo, 48, and Stephen A. Cino, 30, both of Buffalo.

All, except Pieri and Domino, also were charged with violation of the Hobbs act, a federal law prohibiting interference with commerce.

All, except Pieri, were freed on bail ranging from $5,000 to $50,000 within six hours of their arrests.

20,000 HOMES
Is Really Something Extra!

None of us can remember 100 years ago but most of us have learned that this period in our history was just ahead of our great industrial expansion and, as a consequence, it was the beginning of the need for new homes because of the migration of our population from the rural to the urban centers. In anticipation of this movement, the first Savings and Loan Association was established 100 years ago in Ohio. The history of our achievements which followed have proven this to be a boon to all concerned.

In our own Tri-State Area it has been estimated that the savings and loan establishments have helped in the financing of 20,000 homes. That includes just about every home at one time or another during this 100-year period. Our objective, actually, is two-fold: in addition to financing homes, we also provide a depository for savers which returns an attractive dividend for these thrifty people — a happy combination of services and rewards for all of us.

May we suggest you read the feature article about the Savings and Loan League in the Roto section of the June 25th issue of the Youngstown Vindicator.

Installation Set On Water Pump; Situation Eased

Meeting in special session Wednesday night, the Chester Water and Sewage Board decided to install a previously - purchased pump in the upper end of the city adjacent to the present main water pump.

The action will eliminate what officials have termed a dangerous situation.

The board spent an hour and a half thrashing out the problem with D. A. Miller, manager of the water and pump division of the Pennsylvania Drilling Co. which has done most of the work on the city's water system. It was the company which discovered the well feeding the emergency pump was "bad" when it prepared to make repairs a month ago.

—:—

MILLER estimated the new installation at the presently existing site near the Allied Chemical Co.'s plant will cost about $6,800. This includes the construction work to enlarge the present main pumping station to accommodate the additional equipment.

Miller said work by his company may begin in about three weeks.

After lengthy discussion, members decided against drilling another well at 1st St. since the cost would be approximately $9,-800.

The new pump will be installed next to the main pump and will be able to feed either the reservoir or the city's water lines in case of a line failure. Miller pointed out the city knows there is a good water supply in the eastern section, but this might no longer be the case in the 1st St. vicinity.

Board Member Charles Kology said he had been told the Dravo Co. dredge was working in that area for a time. He pointed out the operation is supposed to stay away from the city's well site, but noted, "they've been working that side of the river." Kology said he felt the company should be notified to keep the dredge out of the area.

ON A MOTION by member Roy Cashdollar, the board instructed the water department to begin to make immediate repairs to a support on a 10-inch line which feeds water lines from the reservoir.

Kenneth Williams, former sewage plant operator, said the support was washed away by flood waters in 1963 and never replaced. Williams said each night he turned on the pump he feared the line might burst. This would have created a serious emergency, according to Mayor Burton Ward.

Members pointed out in announcing the decision to install the pump in the upper end of the city, Chester is now obligated to provide water to the Lawrenceville Public Service District and so continuous service is even more desirable.

Cashdollar's motion for the pump installation was contingent upon bids being received if it is found a new well must be drilled. Pennsylvania Drilling will do all the work if the new well is not necessary.

Cashdollar noted Chester residents will be saved approximately $7,500 with the new pumping outfit.

Backing Auto Injures Man

A 42-year-old Midland man suffered an injury of the left leg Wednesday night on Market St. when it was caught between the bumper of his parked pickup truck and a backing auto driven by a Wellsville girl, police reported.

Nick Tarbuk of 1280 Beaver Ave., Midland, was injured about 7:30 in the mishap, 80 feet south of W. 6th St., that involved a 1956 four-door sedan driven by Pamela Van Dyke of Wellsville R. D. 1, officers said. Taken to City Hospital in a police cruiser, he was released after treatment for contusions.

The Van Dyke auto was parked in a spot ahead of Tarbuk's truck, officers said. The girl said she put the gear selector in reverse by mistake. Tarbuk, who was working on his truck, said he shouted: "Stop, stop!" and attempted to move clear, but his left leg was caught between the car and the pickup truck.

Patrolman David K. Mumaw, who investigated, cited the girl on a charge of improper backing.

A mishap Wednesday in Daimond Alley just west of Washington St. involved a parked truck driven by Flave Betteridge, 60, of Chester R. D. 1 and a 1967 model sedan operated by Angelyn C. Corbisello, 35, of 319 Ridge Ave., Wellsville, officers said.

The woman said she was attempting to pass the halted truck, but had insufficient clearance. The car scraped the truck, damaging the right rear door and panel of the sedan. There was no damage to the 1952 model truck, owned by YELP Service, Inc., of the River Rd., officers said. Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins investigated.

District Postmasters Elect During Meeting

Officers were elected during the 18th District meeting of the National Association of Postmasters at Toronto Wednesday.

The dinner event was held in the St. Joseph Greek Catholic Church.

The new officers are: Ulrich A. Sinkora of Dillonvale, president; Otto Zancanelle of Adena, secretary - treasurer, and the following vice presidents from each county, E. R. Schroades of Martins Ferry, Belmont; Tom Kinsey of Augusta, Carroll; Clarence Locke of Salineville, Columbiana; D. T. Lucas of Hopedale, Harrison, and H. P. Wadner of Amsterdam, Jefferson.

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown of East Liverpool, a past president of the association, was chairman of the nominating committee and delivered the oath of office.

The meeting was conducted by Postmaster Lloyd Crawford of Columbiana, outgoing president. Postmasters Robert McKelvey of Toronto and Frank Grysecki of Hammondsville hosted the event.

Various phases of transportation and the use of Zip Code were discussed by post office officials, including Inspector Andy E. Eberhart of Steubenville; Ed Cain of Columbus, postal service officer; Cooper McCauslen, postmaster of the sectional service at Steubenville, and Robert Weld, superintendent of mails in Steubenville.

Don Gosney of Columbiana, represented Wayne L. Hays, 18th District Congressman.

Toronto Mayor Andrew J. Blaner welcomed the postmasters. Malvern Postmistress Mabel Bendetta honored retired postmasters in the audience of 75. All were informed of a postal institute and seminar to be held at Toledo June 27.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I have just discovered a new and better way to label home-made jellies, jams and canned foods.

Use masking tape.

You can place a strip of tape on some waxed paper, roll it into a typewriter and just type away.

The name of the food and the date can be put on this kind of tape. When typed, the words are easier to read and the labeling job is finished much faster.

When through typing, the tape can be removed easily from the waxed paper and put on the jars.

MARILYN HANLEY.

-:-

Ladies, this is terrific and it works beautifully.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I cut the feet off old nylon stockings before using the leg part to tie rose branches and plants.

DEAR HELOISE: A clean plastic squeeze bottle with a flip-seal cap to keep it air tight, is a wonderful container for rubbing alcohol or some types of liniment.

It is much easier to handle and prevent spilling from a large-necked bottled.

A READER.

-:-

You are soooo right! I keep one of these plastic flip-seal bottles filled with rubbing alcohol. It is especially wonderful when traveling as there is no danger of spillage, and it is so lightweight. Also, if you happen to drop it . . . no breakie-breakie!

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: In our home we have a wonderful gadget which we call "the board" — and it is just that. It's a 30"x18" piece of plywood covered with plastic that was left over from the counter in our kitchen when a new sink was installed.

We use this board for just about everything. It fits across the end of our high old-fashioned bathtub. I have dried and dressed four children on it. It saves me from stooping or carrying a wet child out of the warm bathroom and into a bedroom to dress.

"The board" is great to put thing on when cleaning out the linen closet or medicine chest, or for just folding towels, drying sweaters, or what have you.

I also use it for flower arranging or repotting plants right in the bathroom.

In the kitchen I use it on top of the stove when I clean out the cupboards.

In the living room it is ideal for putting a puzzle together.

(If you are interrupted, it can be slipped under the davenport)

At Chrismmas time, I place the board on our bed and wrap presents on it.

Or it can be used to hold articles from the dresser drawers when cleaning them.

As you can see, we would be just lost without this gadget. It cost us practically nothing and has brought many hours of pleasure by making tasks easier.

ROSALIE PAHNER.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found a simple way for making cookies.

I make balls out of the the greased cookie sheet, then place a piece of wax paper on top of the little balls and press each one with a glass.

The waxed paper eliminates flouring and sticking and it can be used repeatedly until all the dough is gone.

I also find that leaving the cookie dough in the refrigerag from sticking to your hands.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I have just discovered a new and better way to label home-made jellies, jams and canned foods.

Use masking tape.

You can place a strip of tape on some waxed paper, roll it into a typewriter and just type away.

The name of the food and the date can be put on this kind of tape. When typed, the words are easier to read and the labeling job is finished much faster.

When through typing, the tape can be removed easily from the waxed paper and put on the jars.

MARILYN HANLEY.

Ladies, this is terrific and it works beautifully.

The reason for putting the tape on the waxed paper is so that the gooey side of the masking tape does not ruin the roller on your typewriter.

Tap New Sources Of Funds Or Boost Rates

Legislatures Take Bigger Tax Bite

CHICAGO (AP) — State legislatures are taking bigger and bigger tax bites either through tapping new sources of funds or by increasing rates, a survey showed today.

The survey was made by Commerce Clearing House, a private agency that reports to its subscribers on tax and business law. It summarized major tax changes enacted so far in 1967 thus:

Nebraska has levied both a corporate and personal income tax, effective for income earned or received on or after Jan. 1, 1968, with rates to be set annually by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment.

West Virginia will begin levying a 6 per cent corporate net income tax, effective July 1, 1967.

Corporate income taxes have been boosted in three states—in Maryland from 5 per cent to 5¼ per cent, in Montana from 5¼ per cent to 5½ per cent, and in Tennessee from 4 per cent to 5 per cent.

Minnesota has hiked the basic income tax rates on corporations from 7½ per cent to 8½ per cent, and on banks from 9½ per cent to 10½ per cent. North Dakota also boosted the tax on banks from 4 per cent to 5 per cent. Vermont levied a 5 per cent franchise tax on financial institutions.

Maryland imposed a graduated income tax based on the federal law replacing the classified tax on ordinary and investment income.

Vermont now levies its personal income tax as a percentage of federal tax liability, with adjustments, and in Montana a combination of increased personal income tax rates and a 5 per cent tax credit carries the effect of boosting the tax in the lower and highest brackets and decreasing the tax in some intermediate brackets.

North Carolina cut income taxes by increasing exemptions.

While Kansas has lowered its personal income tax on the first $2,000 of taxable income, from 2½ to 2 per cent, Minnesota has extended its boosted individual income tax rates presently in effect as well as the additional taxes and surtaxes on banks and corporations.

With enactment of two new sales and use taxes so far this year, 44 states and the District of Columbia now levy these revenue producers.

Nebraska's 2½ per cent tax became effective June 1. Minnesota will begin imposing a 3 per cent tax to replace the expired 2¼ per cent sales tax and former 2¼ per cent use tax.

Sales and use tax increases were enacted in Rhode Island—4 per cent to 5 per cent; Washington—4.2 per cent to 4½ per cent; and in Wyoming—2½ per cent to 3 per cent.

Texas has authorized local sales and use taxes of 1 per cent which would apply to the same property and allow the same exemptions as the 2 per cent state tax. Nevada has also imposed a mandatory 1 per cent county sales and use tax similar to the 2 per cent tax.

House GOP Rallies Caucus Around Shafer Tax Program

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Republican leaders sought today to rally their caucus around Gov. Shafer's $267 million tax program, as pressures and incentives began to mount from a number of angles.

The GOP leadership planned to take its members back into closed-door deliberations shortly after the House reconvened at 10 a.m.

The leadership is committed at the moment to a timetable calling for the tax bills to be voted on this week, although that could be delayed by the outcome of today's caucuses.

Reports began to circulate that the one deal being dangled in front of certain Democrats in return for support on the tax measures involved a Senate-introduced flat racing bill.

According to the reports, the GOP leadership was prepared to strike from the measure—if some Democratic votes were forthcoming—a provision that no corporation licensed for harness racing be approved for a flat racing license.

A number of prominent Democratic families are major stockholders in the Liberty Bell Racing Association, a western Pennsylvania-based operation.

Estimates on the number of Democrats necessary to supplement the 102 available, though not necessarily sealed, Republican votes ranged between two and six, depending upon the source.

High Democratic officials insisted that the most the Republicans could hope for was one vote.

The tax fight over Shafer's $1.791 billion budget developed on two fronts Wednesday.

Two lesser victories were won in the House, but a setback of sorts was handed the administration in the Republican-controlled Senate, where, it was reported, Shafer faces his most difficult tax struggle.

The first House progress came when the Ways and Means Committee reversed itself and released to the floor the final bill in the tax package—an increase from 2 to 6 per cent in the state inheritance tax, worth some $29 million.

The measure, defeated by a 6-10 vote Tuesday, with four Republicans and six Democrats opposed, was approved by a 9-7 count less than 24 hours later, with only two Republicans joining five Democrats in the opposition this time. The sixth Democrat was absent.

The second victory occurred when the GOP leadership reported that, after seven hours of intensive debate, a general accord had been reached within the caucus that the budget could not be cut any further.

A number of Republicans had been vigorously pressing the past two days for substantial reductions in the budget to avoid a $267 million tax hike.

Cubs Sink Bucs; Cards Win

Mets' Fisher Stops Phillies, 2-0

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hire a big enough hall and you could assemble all of the 62 poor souls who've had the thankless task of pitching for the New York Mets during their 5½ adventurous seasons.

But the chairman of the meeting would have to be Jack Fisher, who's in his fourth season of that punishing job. Fisher had been at it longer than anybody else and for that he deserves to be chairman.

He hurled a brilliant two-hitter Wednesday night and beat Philadelphia 2-0 on an attack that consisted mainly of Tommy Davis getting plunked by Jim Bunning's pitches.

It was the best pitched game in the National League where Cincinnati nipped Houston 3-2, Chicago dropped Pittsburgh 6-3, Atlanta battered San Francisco 9-2 and St. Louis shut out Los Angeles 2-0.

The only hits off Fisher were by rookie Gary Sutherland, who looped a leadoff double in the sixth and then singled in the eighth. Fisher struck out five and walked two in running his record to 5-7.

The Mets nicked Bunning for single runs in the first and third innings. Cleon Jones singled and stole second before Bunning hit Ed Kranepool and Davis in the first. Tom Reynolds' sacrifice fly delivered the run.

In the third, Davis was hit again, reached third on Rich Allen's error and then scored on a grounder.

Fisher, the workhorse of the Mets' staff, sailed through the first five innings. Sutherland's double and a pair of walks loaded the bases in the sixth but he escaped by getting Bill White on a grounder.

Like almost all their games, there was a touch of irony attached to the two-hitter for Fisher and the Mets. Sutherland, the only man to hit him safely, is the brother of a former Met pitcher.

Vada Pinson opened Cincinnati's ninth inning with a double and came around on a fly ball and a grounder for the Reds' winning run against Houston.

Pinson moved to third on Tony Perez' fly and scored on Lee May's bouncer. Perez and May accounted for Cincinnati's first two runs with solo homers. Jim Wynn hit his 17th for the Astros.

The Cubs moved into third place by beating the Pirates with Curt Simmons and Dick Radatz making an early four-run bulge stand up.

Simmons, 38, worked the first eight innings and Radatz set Pittsburgh down in the ninth as Chicago moved .001 ahead of San Francisco. Adolpho Phillips drove in two runs with a first inning single and John Boccabella chased two more across with a triple in the sixth.

Bob Uecker drove in five runs with a grand slam homer and a double as the Braves whacked the Giants.

Uecker's shot capped a seven-run Atlanta third that put it away for Pat Jarvis, who hurled a six-hitter. Denis Menke tagged three hits including a homer for the Braves.

Right-hander Ray Washburn and two relievers combined for a four-hitter as the Cardinals blanked the Dodgers and ended a four-game Los Angeles winning streak.

Washburn had allowed just three hits until the seventh when he stopped a line drive single by John Roseboro with his pitching hand. Joe Hoerner relieved and pitched out of a bases-loaded jam. He needed last-out help from Nelson Briles.

Washburn suffered a compound dislocation of his right thumb but X rays showed no fractures.

DISPLAYING THEIR ribbons are these East Junior High cheerleaders who won honors in five divisions at the National Cheerleading Association Summer School last week at Kent State University. The East Junior squad received one second place ribbon, two third place awards and two honorable mention ribbons. The girls include first row, left-to-right, Grace Hamilton, Janice Koerber and Jill Hammond. Second row—Delores Krafft, Joan Koerber and Vicky Dawson.

Chisox Take Pair, Lead By 3½

Bosox, Yanks In Beanball Free-For-All

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Lonborg, once a friendly, smiling giant, has forsaken his winning ways for a winning fast ball that rises high and tight and now has hitters ducking him like he had bad breath.

The Boston Red Sox new mean man of the mound blew his latest innovation by New York for an 8-1 victory Wednesday night, but the Yankees did not go down without a fight.

Lonborg's lively fast ball and one thrown by the Yankees' Thad Tillotson that wasn't so lively started a brush back, bean ball contest that emptied both benches in a second inning free-for-all.

Tillotson hit Joe Foy on the helmet with a pitch in the top half of the inning, then one of Lonborg's high hard ones struck Tillotson in the shoulder. Words were exchanged between the two pitchers, then between Tillotson and Foy, the benches emptied, a wild melee began and it took 12 special policemen to restore order.

Elsewhere in the league, the leading Chicago White Sox quietly swept a doubleheader from Washington 5-2 and 2-1 on the hitting of Tom McCraw and Gerry McNertney, and reliever Eddie Watt saved Baltimore's 5-4 triumph over Kansas City.

Detroit and Minnesota played to a 5-5 tie in a game halted in the ninth inning by rain and Cleveland and California were rained out before they started.

No players were ejected in the brawl at Yankee Stadium, the second there in recent weeks, but Joe Pepitone of the Yankees was decked by one punch and had to leave the game with a sprained wrist.

In the next inning, Tillotson hit Lonborg and Lonborg later brushed back Charley Smith and hit Dick Howser before the umpires summoned both managers and laid down the law.

Howser and the Red Sox agreed the pitch that hit him on the helmet was an accident, but it left Lonborg with 10 hit batsmen this season, tops in the league.

Asked later if he threw at Tillotson, the 6-foot-5 right-hander answered "What do you think? I have to protect my own players."

It's all part of the new Lonborg, who has changed his friendly attitude for a strictly business manner on the mound that discourages hitters from digging in at the plate.

"I want to be the best in my business," the 24-year-old college graduate who once had ambitions to be a doctor, said earlier this year. "I'm not going to let anything interfere. The batters took too many liberties with me my first two years. I don't throw at anybody, but I can't let them do it anymore."

Lonborg who was 9-17 as a rookie and 10-10 last year, allowed seven hits — Yankee hits — as he ran his record to 9-2, lowered his earned run average to 3.03 and struck out seven to raise his league lead to 105.

Tony Conigliaro's three-run homer and three-run scoring hits by Carl Yastrzemski led the Red Sox attack against Tillotson.

McNertney also slammed three hits, driving in two runs and scoring a third as the White Sox won their opener on the shutout relief pitching of winner Bruce Howard and Hoyt Wilhelm.

McGraw's leadoff homer in the seventh inning gave Jim O'Toole the triumph in the nightcap with relief help from Bob Locker.

Watt entered in time to strike out Bert Campaneris with the bases loaded in the eighth inning and protect Pete Richert's victory for the Orioles.

Frank Robinson hit his 21st homer with a man on and Dave Johnson drove in two more runs to build Baltimore's lead.

Two-run homers by Al Kaline and Dick McAuliffe of Detroit matched Harmon Killebrew's 20th and 21st homers and a shot by Rod Carew of the Twins in their game that was delayed by rain an hour at the start and then stopped four more times before it was called.

All records count and the game will be replayed from the start.

Post Office Golf Set

Nine local golfers will compete in the first annual Ohio State Post Office Golf Tournament Sunday at Sleepy Hollow Country Club at Alliance.

The tournament is being sponsored by the Tri - State Post Office Golf Association and 60 have entered from cities throughout Ohio and Western Pennsylvania.

Other local golfers who have entered include Len Shields, William Fry, Bob Chetwynd, Dick Ellison and Paul Burns. Ellison and Burns are playing as guests since each office is permitted to enter two guest players.

The winners of the low gross and low net will have their choice of competing in the National Golf Tournament at Lake Placid, N. Y. either this year or in 1968. The tournament is being held July 12-16.

Merchandise prizes will be awarded Sunday at a banquet which follows golfing. Tee off time is 9 a.m. for the 18-hole medal play.

Some of the guests who will be present Sunday include John A. Milano, of Boston an executive of the district Post Office Golf Association; James F. Williams of Indianapolis, National vice president of the United Federation of Postal Clerks and Harry Heck of Akron, president of the Ohio Federation of Postal Clerks.

Phillies Sell Dick Groat To San Francisco

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Shortstop Dick Groat, former National League batting champ and Most Valuable Player, has been sold by the Philadelphia Phillies to the San Francisco Giants.

Groat, out much of the spring with an ankle infection, was sold for the wavier price, $20,000.

"I don't know how to describe the feeling," said Groat. "It still hasn't sunk in, to be frank with you. Getting traded was the farthest thing from my mind."

Groat said his ankle is still bothering him and it may keep him out of action at San Francisco for a while.

Groat was the batting champ and MVP while at Pittsburgh.

Track Stars Collect For AAU Events

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)— The 79th Annual National AAU Track and Field Championships get under way tonight with a competing cast of almost 500, topped in the first of two nights by the nation's finest dashmen and high hurdlers.

Defending champion Charlie Greene of Nebraska and Jimmy Hines of Texas Southern, who have equaled the world record of 9.1 vie in the 100-yard dash.

Clashing in the 120-yard high hurdles final will be Willie Davenport of Southern University, the 1966 champion, and the 1-2 finishers in the National Collegiate at Provo, Utah, last week, Earl McCullouch of Southern California and Richmond Flowers of Tennessee.

Miler Jim Ryun of Kansas, Bob Seagren, new pole vault record holder—17-7, and Hines Tommie Smith and fellow 220 sprinters are among those on display Friday night.

Following U.S. Open Victory

Cleveland Open Begins With Nicklaus Favored

CLEVELAND (AP) — Newly crowned U.S. Open king Jack Nicklaus was a heavy favorite today to capture the $103,500 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament.

But the big belter from Columbus wasn't likely to carry a smug attitude into the first round of play.

The blond power-hitter won the National Open in record-shattering fashion last weekend with a crafty performance. His five - under - par 65 Sunday at Baltusrol Country Club in Springfield, N.J., included eight birdies.

It was the second Open crown for the 27-year-old Buckeye pro who owns every major title in the book.

But Nicklaus, who has won more than a half million dollars in slightly more than five years, has never come out on top here. Observers figure he may find the $20,700 first prize interesting enough to apply the pressure.

Nicklaus had been anything but impressive until his decisive triumph last week and may be ready to attack the Aurora Country Club's tight 6,611-yard layout where par is 70.

In the first Cleveland Open in 1963, Nicklaus finished seventh while Arnold Palmer prevailed.

In 1964, Jack finished in a tie for third while the late Tony Lema topped Palmer in a playoff for the title.

Nicklaus skipped the '65 tourney, a move that drew criticism in these parts. He finished well back in the pack last year with a 278.

Nicklaus has had trouble before winning on Ohio courses. Even before turning to a lucrative career as a professional, Jack failed to win the Ohio Amateur, an event annexed twice by Palmer when the millionaire Pennsylvanian was in the Coast Guard stationed near here.

Still, based on the form he displayed at Baltusrol, Nicklaus has to be the man to beat. Stiff competition should come from Palmer, Billy Casper, Julius Boros, the tour's only three-tournament winner, and R.H. Sikes, last year's champion.

Nicklaus tuned up for first-round action with a nine-hole score of 34 in Wednesday's rain-curtailed pro-am event.

Bucs Purchase Luplow; Gonder Goes To Minors

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Jesse Gonder, the Pittsburgh Pirates' opening day catcher, has been sold outright to the Columbus Jets of the International League.

Al Luplow, left-handed hitting outfielder, was acquired by Pittsburgh from the New York Mets for the $20,000 waiver price. The Pirates announced the transaction Wednesday.

Gonder, 31, appeared in 22 games and had a .139 batting average. He came to Pittsburgh in 1965 after playing for the Cincinnati Reds and Milwaukee Braves since breaking into professional baseball in 1955.

Luplow, 28, appeared in 41 games, posting a .205 batting average. He is reputed to be a good clutch hitter and will probably be used as a pinch hitter and utility outfielder. He'll join the Pirates in Cincinnati Friday.

Cubs Sink Bucs; Cards Win

Mets' Fisher Stops Phillies, 2-0

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hire a big enough hall and you could assemble all of the 62 poor souls who've had the thankless task of pitching for the New York Mets during their 5½ adventurous seasons.

But the chairman of the meeting would have to be Jack Fisher, who's in his fourth season of that punishing job. Fisher had been at it longer than anybody else and for that he deserves to be chairman.

He hurled a brilliant two-hitter Wednesday night and beat Philadelphia 2-0 on an attack that consisted mainly of Tommy Davis getting plunked by Jim Bunning's pitches.

It was the best pitched game in the National League where Cincinnati nipped Houston 3-2, Chicago dropped Pittsburgh 6-3, Atlanta battered San Francisco 9-2 and St. Louis shut out Los Angeles 2-0.

The only hits off Fisher were by rookie Gary Sutherland, who looped a leadoff double in the sixth and then singled in the eighth. Fisher struck out five and walked two in running his record to 5-7.

The Mets nicked Bunning for single runs in the first and third innings. Cleon Jones singled and stole second before Bunning hit Ed Kranepool and Davis in the first. Tom Reynolds' sacrifice fly delivered the run.

In the third, Davis was hit again, reached third on Rich Allen's error and then scored on a grounder.

Fisher, the workhorse of the Mets' staff, sailed through the first five innings. Sutherland's double and a pair of walks loaded the bases in the sixth but he escaped by getting Bill White on a grounder.

Like almost all their games, there was a touch of irony attached to the two-hitter for Fisher and the Mets. Sutherland, the only man to hit him safely, is the brother of a former Met pitcher.

Vada Pinson opened Cincinnati's ninth inning with a double and came around on a fly ball and a grounder for the Reds' winning run against Houston.

Pinson moved to third on Tony Perez' fly and scored on Lee May's bouncer. Perez and May accounted for Cincinnati's first two runs with solo homers. Jim Wynn hit his 17th for the Astros.

The Cubs moved into third place by beating the Pirates with Curt Simmons and Dick Radatz making an early four-run bulge stand up.

Simmons, 38, worked the first eight innings and Radatz set Pittsburgh down in the ninth as Chicago moved .001 ahead of San Francisco. Adolpho Phillips drove in two runs with a first inning single and John Boccabella chased two more across with a triple in the sixth.

Bob Uecker drove in five runs with a grand slam homer and a double as the Braves whacked the Giants.

Uecker's shot capped a seven-run Atlanta third that put it away for Pat Jarvis, who hurled a six-hitter. Denis Menke tagged three hits including a homer for the Braves.

Right-hander Ray Washburn and two relievers combined for a four-hitter as the Cardinals blanked the Dodgers and ended a four-game Los Angeles winning streak.

Washburn had allowed just three hits until the seventh when he stopped a line drive single by John Roseboro with his pitching hand. Joe Hoerner relieved and pitched out of a bases-loaded jam. He needed last-out help from Nelson Briles.

Washburn suffered a compound dislocation of his right thumb but X rays showed no fractures.

DISPLAYING THEIR ribbons are these East Junior High cheerleaders who won honors in five divisions at the National Cheerleading Association Summer School last week at Kent State University. The East Junior squad received one second place ribbon, two third place awards and two honorable mention ribbons. The girls include first row, left-to-right, Grace Hamilton, Janice Koerber and Jill Hammond. Second row—Delores Krafft, Joan Koerber and Vicky Dawson.

Chisox Take Pair, Lead By 3½

Bosox, Yanks In Beanball Free-For-All

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Lonborg, once a friendly, smiling giant, has forsaken his winning ways for a winning fast ball that rises high and tight and now has hitters ducking him like he had bad breath.

The Boston Red Sox new mean man of the mound blew his latest innovation by New York for an 8-1 victory Wednesday night, but the Yankees did not go down without a fight.

Lonborg's lively fast ball and one thrown by the Yankees' Thad Tillotson that wasn't so lively started a brush back, bean ball contest that emptied both benches in a second inning free-for-all.

Tillotson hit Joe Foy on the helmet with a pitch in the top half of the inning, then one of Lonborg's high hard ones struck Tillotson in the shoulder. Words were exchanged between the two pitchers, then between Tillotson and Foy, the benches emptied, a wild melee began and it took 12 special policemen to restore order.

Elsewhere in the league, the leading Chicago White Sox quietly swept a doubleheader from Washington 5-2 and 2-1 on the hitting of Tom McCraw and Gerry McNertney, and reliever Eddie Watt saved Baltimore's 5-4 triumph over Kansas City.

Detroit and Minnesota played to a 5-5 tie in a game halted in the ninth inning by rain and Cleveland and California were rained out before they started.

No players were ejected in the brawl at Yankee Stadium, the second there in recent weeks, but Joe Pepitone of the Yankees was decked by one punch and had to leave the game with a sprained wrist.

In the next inning, Tillotson hit Lonborg and Lonborg later brushed back Charley Smith and hit Dick Howser before the umpires summoned both managers and laid down the law.

Howser and the Red Sox agreed the pitch that hit him on the helmet was an accident, but it left Lonborg with 10 hit batsmen this season, tops in the league.

Asked later if he threw at Tillotson, the 6-foot-5 right-hander answered "What do you think? I have to protect my own players."

It's all part of the new Lonborg, who has changed his friendly attitude for a strictly business manner on the mound that discourages hitters from digging in at the plate.

"I want to be the best in my business," the 24-year-old college graduate who once had ambitions to be a doctor, said earlier this year. "I'm not going to let anything interfere. The batters took too many liberties with me my first two years. I don't throw at anybody, but I can't let them do it anymore."

Lonborg, who was 9-17 as a rookie and 10-10 last year, allowed seven hits — Yankee hits — as he ran his record to 9-2, lowered his earned run average to 3.03 and struck out seven to raise his league lead to 105.

Tony Conigliaro's three-run homer and three-run scoring hits by Carl Yastrzemski led the Red Sox attack against Tillotson.

McNertney also slammed three hits, driving in two runs and scoring a third as the White Sox won their opener on the shutout relief pitching of winner Bruce Howard and Hoyt Wilhelm.

McGraw's leadoff homer in the seventh inning gave Jim O'Toole the triumph in the nightcap with relief help from Bob Locker.

Watt entered in time to strike out Bert Campaneris with the bases loaded in the eighth inning and protect Pete Richert's victory for the Orioles.

Frank Robinson hit his 21st homer with a man on and Dave Johnson drove in two more runs to build Baltimore's lead.

Two-run homers by Al Kaline and Dick McAuliffe of Detroit matched Harmon Killebrew's 20th and 21st homers and a shot by Rod Carew of the Twins in their game that was delayed by rain an hour at the start and then stopped four more times before it was called.

All records count and the game will be replayed from the start.

Post Office Golf Set

Nine local golfers will compete in the first annual Ohio State Post Office Golf Tournament Sunday at Sleepy Hollow Country Club at Alliance.

The tournament is being sponsored by the Tri - State Post Office Golf Association and 60 have entered from cities throughout Ohio and Western Pennsylvania.

Other local golfers who have entered include Len Shields, William Fry, Bob Chetwynd, Dick Ellison and Paul Burns. Ellison and Burns are playing as guests since each office is permitted to enter two guest players.

The winners of the low gross and low net will have their choice of competing in the National Golf Tournament at Lake Placid, N. Y. either this year or in 1968. The tournament is being held July 12-16.

Merchandise prizes will be awarded Sunday at a banquet which follows golfing. Tee off time is 9 a.m. for the 18-hole medal play.

Some of the guests who will be present Sunday include John A. Milano, of Boston an executive of the district Post Office Golf Association; James F. Williams of Indianapolis, National vice president of the United Federation of Postal Clerks and Harry Heck of Akron, president of the Ohio Federation of Postal Clerks.

Phillies Sell Dick Groat To San Francisco

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Shortstop Dick Groat, former National League batting champ and Most Valuable Player, has been sold by the Philadelphia Phillies to the San Francisco Giants.

Groat, out much of the spring with an ankle infection, was sold for the wavier price, $20,000.

"I don't know how to describe the feeling," said Groat. "It still hasn't sunk in, to be frank with you. Getting traded was the farthest thing from my mind."

Groat said his ankle is still bothering him and it may keep him out of action at San Francisco for a while.

Groat was the batting champ and MVP while at Pittsburgh.

Track Stars Collect For AAU Events

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—The 79th Annual National AAU Track and Field Championships get under way tonight with a competing cast of almost 500, topped in the first of two nights by the nation's finest dashmen and high hurdlers.

Defending champion Charlie Greene of Nebraska and Jimmy Hines of Texas Southern, who have equaled the world record of 9.1 vie in the 100-yard dash.

Clashing in the 120-yard high hurdles final will be Willie Davenport of Southern University, the 1966 champion, and the 1-2 finishers in the National Collegiate at Provo, Utah, last week, Earl McCullouch of Southern California and Richmond Flowers of Tennessee.

Miler Jim Ryun of Kansas, Bob Seagren, new pole vault record holder—17-7, and Hines Tommie Smith and fellow 220 sprinters are among those on display Friday night.

Seiferth's Two Unearned Runs Defeat Lawyers, 2-0

Seiferth's Real Estate scored two unearned runs in the fifth inning to score a 2-0 victory over the Lawyers in the Colt League Wednesday.

Dan Myers went the distance for Seiferth's blanking the Lawyers on six hits. Steve Murray was the loser and only gave up five hits.

Klembara and F. Brown collected doubles for the winners while Dubberly, Haney and Kristy had two hits each for the Lawyers.

Myers fanned eight batters and gave up two walks.

IN 1878 NIKOLAUS OTTO BUILT ONE OF the first internal - combustion engines. It grew into the Kloeckner-Humboldt-Deutz engine firm of Germany today. That first engine is displayed at Expo '67 in Montreal.

A 180° REAR-VIEW MIRROR is on the market. We don't have them, but they'll fit any car. Can be installed in 15 minutes.

DURING THE LAST TEN YEARS people bought the most cars in these months of the year: April 4 times; June, December 2 each; March, October 1.

DON'T ALLOW RECKLESS PASSENGERS in your car to interfere with the driver. Lay down the law to kids, the mother-in-law, and to buddies who get too rambunctious. It's your life you're toying with!

CAR WRECKS, SMASHES, SCRAPED fenders, hospitalization and related items in "accidents" cost U.S. citizens $9.8 BILLION last year!

A 1965 FORD? A 1965 CHEV? How about a 1966 Plymouth hardtop? Chances are we have these and almost any used car you want on any of our three used car spots here in East Liverpool, 614 Broadway. Stop by at M & A MOTORS and find just the car you've been looking for!

"IN FIVE MINUTES I CAN ENTER, START and steal any American car." That's what a professional car thief said. To frustrate him always lock your car, always take the keys. Don't leave keys hidden in car.

Newell Nine Tops Hanover In 9-4 Win

Newell defeated Hanover 9-4 in a South Side League game Wednesday.

Rick Knicely pitched and batted Newell to victory. Giving up five hits, Knicely and Mark Fabbro had three hits each. Lloyd Cox had two hits for Hanover and Cosnka was the losing hurler.

Cubs Defeat Mets

The Salineville Cubs defeated the Salineville Mets, 11-8, in an HIHS League game Wednesday. Jim Smith received the pitching victory.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Bob Uecker, Braves, belted a grand slam home run and doubled in another run as Atlanta crushed San Francisco 9-2.

PITCHING — Jack Fisher, Mets, fired a two-hitter, striking out five as New York blanked Philadelphia 2-0.

Pirates Set Tryout Camp At Weirton

The Pittsburgh Pirates will conduct a tryout camp Monday from 9 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. at the Weirton Community Center field. Boys 16-21 years of age can try out and must bring their own shoes and glove.

Jim Vennari and Joe Consoli are in charge of the camp. Area players are invited.

Lawrenceville Wins

The Lawrenceville Seniors of the South Side League handed Newell a 7-5 loss Tuesday. Vic Reed gave up three hits to gain the mound victory. Reed, Bill Lyons and Jan Harpold had two hits each for the winners.

Rides 4 Winners

NEW YORK (AP)— Jockey Braulio Baeza rode four winners at Aqueduct race track Wednesday.

Rogers Drive-In Tops M&A In Minor League

In a make up contest, Rogers Drive-In defeated M & A Motors, 13-11 Wednesday in the Minor League.

M & A outhit Rogers 16-12 but wound up on the short end of the score.

Marty Bolton with a triple, double and single and three hits by Bob Wright paced Rogers. Jim Woods and R. Wolfe had three hits each for M & A. Craig Dray was the winning pitcher.

Police Take Precaution At Arraignment

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Taking their cue from a previous court appearance which sparked an attack on a courthouse, police planned every precaution today for the arraignment of 20 members of the militant Spanish-American group.

Members of the group, who contend they are heirs to millions of acres in the Southwest, face 26 charges each stemming from the armed raid June 5 on a rural northern New Mexico courthouse. Three of the charges are first-degree kidnaping and could result in the death penalty.

They were arrested during one of New Mexico's biggest manhunts which included units of the National Guard and about 100 state and local officers. Tanks, helicopters and jeeps were used in the search.

State Police Chief Joe Black declined to disclose how many officers would guard the prisoners in the courtroom and during their trip from the state prison, where they have been held.

"We'll have enough officers to guarantee complete security so that they'll have due process of law for these arraignments," Black said.

When the group's leader, Reies Lopez Tijerina, 40, and three of his followers were taken to Albuquerque Monday on federal charges stemming from another incident, heavy reinforcements of federal, state, county and city officers were in the courtroom.

The raid on the Rio Aribba County Courthouse in Tierra Amarilla by more than a dozen gunmen came only minutes after a court appearance of seven of the group's members on unlawful assembly charges stemming from threats to take by force 600,000 acres of northern New Mexico.

Two policemen were wounded by gunfire, about 20 persons were detained in the courthouse, and two other men were taken hostage by the raiders but released unharmed as guardsmen and police moved in.

Besides first-degree kidnaping, other charges include 21 counts of second-degree kidnaping, one count of assault with intent to commit murder and one of unlawful assault on a jail.

Dist. Atty. Alfonso Sanchez has said he will seek the death penalty for the group, which also includes Tijerina's daughter, Rose; a son, Reies Jr., and a brother, Ramon Tijerina.

Dist. Judge Joe Angel of Las Vegas was named to hear the case after the two Santa Fe district judges were disqualified.

Commuter Thief Indicted Under Name 'John Doe'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh's elusive "Commuter Bandit," whose string of 16 bank holdups goes back to October, 1961, has been indicted for a 1962 bank robbery under the name "John Doe" to protect the prosecution against the statute of limitations.

The indictment returned by a federal grand jury Wednesday charged the bandit with the $4,700 robbery of the Oakland branch of the Union National Bank. The five-year statute of limitations would have run out midnight Saturday.

Also indicted was Donald K. Kibler, 34, of Sewickley. He is charged with fraud by wire. The government said he purchased $1,500 in travelers checks in New York, then told a Pittsburgh bank he lost them.

George D. Countz, 23, Leroy E. Haynie, 29, Cleo Fuqua, 22, and James Smiley, all of Pittsburgh's Hill District, were indicted on narcotic charges.

Firm Picks Columbus As Test Market Site

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Federated Department Stores, Inc., largest department store chain in the United States, is entering the discount department store field and has picked Columbus, Ohio, as its test market.

Federated Chairman Fred Lazarus Jr. announced here Wednesday that his firm is making the move because of "the continuing solid growth of discounting" and the basic appeal of mass merchandising, hours and convenience to customers.

The Columbus prototype store will be opened in May 1968, Lazarus said.

Scallops are really shellfish.

Low Bid Submitted On Reservoir Project

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — An apparent low bid of $2,548,628 for additional work at a Paint Creek, johio, reservoir project has been submitted to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The engineers reported Wednesday the bid was submitted by R. E. Dailey & Co. of Detroit, Mich. The work involves construction of outlet works at the Paint Creek Dam and Reservoir.

Ohio State Professor Named Miami U. Dean

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)— Dr. Bill Reid Moeckel has been named Dean of Miami University's School of Business Administration effective Sept. 1.

Dr. Moeckel, now on the faculty of Ohio State University will fill a vacancy created by resignation of Dr. D. R. Cawthorne.

FORD For Capable Service For Customer Satisfaction

IN CHESTER

You'll Be Satisfied With These 7 Steps

1. • Accurately diagnose the repairs needed on your car.
2. • Secure your authorization to do the work before starting.
3. • Notify you in advance of any additional work we think should be done.
4. • Perform all the work on your car as efficiently and as economically as possible and replace only those parts which in our judgment need replacing.
5. • Road test your car after the work is done.
6. • Have your car ready on time.
7. • Provide you with an itemized bill showing exactly what work was done and exactly what it cost.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, June 22, the 173rd day of 1967. There are 192 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1941, Germany invaded Russia in World War II.

On this date:

In 1815, Napoleon Bonaparte was forced to abdicate for the second time.

In 1870, the U.S. Department of Justice was formed.

In 1911, Britain's King George V and Queen Mary were crowned in London.

In 1937, Joe Louis became the world heavyweight boxing champion by knocking out Jim Braddock in a match in Chicago.

In 1940, the World War II armistice between France and Germany was signed.

In 1962, the Soviet Union cast its 100th veto in the U.N. Security Council, supporting India against Pakistan on the question of a plebiscite in Kashmir.

Ten years ago — The United States announced it would bring home its 25,000 ground troops still in Japan.

Five years ago—A total of 112 persons were killed in the crash of an Air France jetliner trying to land during a storm on the West Indian island of Guadaloupe.

One year ago—South Vietnamese troops stormed a Buddhist compound in Saigon to stamp out opposition to the government.

Junior Editors Quiz on TURTLES

QUESTION: Why do certain kinds of turtles live to such a great age?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Scientists tell us that about 175 million years ago, when various kinds of cold-blooded reptiles had appeared, one kind (lower left) developed a remarkable way of protecting itself from enemies. Its backbone and ribs appeared outside the soft body and fused into a strong outer shell. A similar shell appeared underneath. So arose the tribe of turtles, among the most successful of animals, for their unique shells have given them security ever since. Because of these protective shells, and also because turtles have an ability to stay alive under difficult conditions, such as lack of food or water, turtles live longer than other backboned animals. Many of our small American turtles may live 50 years or so. On the Galapogos Islands, which lie off the coast of South America, the giant Galapogos Tortoise lives even longer, to 150 years or perhaps more. These great creatures, weighing up to 500 pounds, were nearly exterminated when men came to the islands. Now they are being carefully protected.
